

Jones County Oil Registers Two New Productions Over Week as Others Completed

Jones County oil was registering completions in new discoveries about 20 miles southeast of Hamlin and others in the Bartlett Pool were reported.

The new productions were in the Strawn and Lower Gunsite.

The first located about 16 miles southwest of Hamlin showed 10 barrels per hour through 24-64 choke on test for five hours. It is the C. U. Bay & B. H. Hilburn No. 1 Matthews, Strawn discovery located 990 feet from the north and 600 feet from the east line of subdivision 39, league 149 DeWitt County School Land survey.

While the Lower Gunsite production is located about 15 miles southeast of Hamlin Danciger Oil & Refining Company No. 1 R. L. Stephens son reported water trouble and was decided to maybe complete in the Upper Gunsite or in the Flippins if the formation shows water still coming from it after casing. It is located from the south line of R. L. Stephens 517 acre tract in the M. Fragoza survey.

While only four miles southeast of Hamlin, top of the King-Swastika section was expected early this week on the Roark, Hooker & Roark No. 1 E. E. Farnsworth, a wildcat located 2,310 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east line of block 360 Goliad County School Lands survey. It is on permit for 3,500.

While two new producers in the Jones County Bartlett Pool were completed about 28 miles southeast of Hamlin.

On the corner of this pool the Ungren & Frazier et al No. 2 Mattie V. Alexander has been gauged at 8642 barrels of 41 gravity oil per day on pump from the King at 3,218 3,225 feet. It is located 330 feet from the north and 990 from the west line of section 34 block 2 SP survey.

While northwest corner of the pool the Ungren & Frazier et al No. 3 H. L. Bartlett, Swastika completion showed 25 barrels per hour thru 1-4 inch choke. It is located 1,051 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east line of section 43 of block 2 SP survey.

County Wheat Farmer Reminded by AAA To Make Claims Soon

Nelson Little, district crop insurance supervisor this week reminded Hamlin and other Jones County wheat farmers who had their crops insured under government program, to file their report immediately after making harvest in order to finish their adjustments.

Little stated that they should report to the AAA office within 10 days after harvesting is finished in order for the adjusters to inspect and measure the stubble and transmit their wheat insurance claims if they have a loss.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Neill Jr. of Hamlin are the proud parents of a daughter, Donna Mae, born Sunday in an Abilene hospital. She weighed six pounds and seven and three-fourths ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ray Griffin of McCauley are the proud parents of a daughter born Saturday a week ago.

Fisher County Has New Wildcat and Two Other Tests

Fisher County oil this week showed a new Ellenburger wildcat and two other tests, the latter ones nearing completion in the Ellenburger and King respectively.

Wildcat was located about 17 miles southeast of Hamlin and is the Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Mrs. Emma E. Boyd, 467 feet from the south and east lines of the west 196.17 acres of section 3 block K T&P survey. It is on permit for 6,500 feet with rotary.

While about 23 miles southeast of Hamlin the Exploration Drilling Company No. 2 H. S. Newman located 1,754 feet from the west and 700 from the south line of sector 2 1/2 John Rodman survey. It is an offset to the operator's No. 1 Newman which registered no show in the King. It was to have reached the King early this week.

While about 14 miles from Hamlin top of the Ellenburger was due early this week on the S. B. Roberts et al No. 1 P. H. Osek located 330 feet from the south line of the MK&T right of way and 330 from the west line of section 7 W. E. Richardson survey. It is on permit for 6,200.

James Tate May of Hamlin received a bachelor of business administration degree at 10:00 o'clock a. m. Monday with the largest graduating class in the 103 year history of Baylor University, Waco. Commencement exercises were held in Waco Hall.

This year's graduating class exceeds that of last year by more than 140, totaling more than 500.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May attended the exercises at Waco of their son. He has accepted a job in Tulsa, Oklahoma with the Carter Oil Company.

A record of prompt claim payments was established in Texas today by the Santa Fe Railway with $153,000 awarded cattlemen less than three weeks after an impartial Board was organized to evaluate cattle losses resulting from the recent accidental poisoning of Little Linville Creek. Soon after Railway President Fred G. Gurley assumed responsibility and suggested a Board of local cattlemen to hasten adequate relief, action was inspired. A Board was enlisted by County Judge Thurmon M. Gupion of Brazoria April 28th; it considered first claims May 4th and today settled all but two or three yet to be presented. Shown here is P. J. Reeves Jr., with a check for $5,000 delivered by E. H. Wilson, general claim agent, extreme left; standing, left to right, J. C. Jones, T. P. Matthews and L. J. McNeill, Board members, and, seated, Reeves.

Hamlin Reresented at F-M Meet at Anson

Hamlin was represented last Thursday night at Anson at another meeting of Jones County leaders on discussing Farm-to-Market roads in the County.

The meeting was held in form of a banquet at the Anson Memorial

A total of 18 carloads of wheat from the 1948 crop in Hamlin area had been shipped from Hamlin up to Wednesday night according to a report from the agent at Santa Fe Railways here.

Harvest of this year's crop, was started about three weeks ago, and had progressed at a daily increasing rate with additional combines starting in fields in all sections of the County as favorable weather prevailed.

Cut short by lack of rainfall and hot dry weather in the early spring months, the yield is expected to be very light for the 1948 crop.

This year's market opened at the rate of $2.15 per bushel while last year was around $2.85.

Reports from the north indicated the 1948 crop to be harvesting out at from four to eight or better per acre.

While west to Rotan yield is very poor at from two to six or better. East and south is not much better it is reported.

Last year yields averaged at better than 42 bushels per acre in some near areas and a total of about 250 cars were shipped from Hamlin.

Fifth Annual Picnic Bell County People At Buffalo Gap

Fifth annual picnic of the Ex-Bell County residents who now reside in West Texas will be held at the Presbyterian Camp ground at Buffalo Gap Sunday, June 20 according to a report to The Herald this week from Florence Clifton, secretary.

The Association was organized in 1940 and has for its purpose the coming together once a year of all that were former residents of Bell County. There are no dues and the only requirements are that the person formerly lived in Bell County and now lives in West Texas.

Basket lunches are to be brought to the gathering and will convene at 10:00 o'clock a. m.

A crowd of over 2,000 is expected to meet at the meeting.

Hamlin's representatives were Fred C. Smith and J. S. Inzer.

Rev. Posey, Baptist Pastor, to Bring First Sermon Sunday

Rev. A. R. Posey, new pastor of Hamlin's First Baptist Church, will preach his first sermon this Sunday. He replaces Rev. John H. Osteen who is now doing evangelistic work.

Rev. Posey was born and reared in Hereford and graduated from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

He has been the pastor of the Chillicothe Baptist Church for the past three and one-half years. Rev. and Mrs. Posey have two children, Ellis a sophomore in Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Barbara who will enter High School here this fall.

The Poseys arrived at their home here Thursday.

Hamlin V.F.W. Post to Hold Cancer Drive This Evening

Hamlin's Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring a drive for conquering Cancer today (Friday) at 2:30 o'clock p. m. according to reports.

Quota for Jones County this year is only $1,500. Hamlin's quota is only $300.

Cancer as everyone knows is a much dreaded disease and someone dies of it every three minutes—yes, one every three minutes.

The drive is for the American Cancer Society and the funds are distributed thusly: 2 per cent to research; 60 per cent to the State; and 15 percent to the national program.

Cancer is frequently curable if it is caught in time. Below are the recognition signals of the disease:

1.—Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, lips or mouth.

2.—A painless lump or thickening especially in the breast, lip or tongue.

3.—Progressive change in the color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.

4.—Persistent indigestion.

5.—Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing.

6.—Bloody discharge from the nipple or irregular bleeding from any of the natural body openings.

7.—Any change in the normal bowel habits.

These are a few of the many things the Society has learned, but they still need your help, give!

Palestine Jews Proclaim New State Of Israel, Attacked by Arab Armies; U.S. Victim of Russian Propaganda

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Impulse to Zion

Arnold Toynbee, British historian, types the Jews as a fossilized remnant of an extinct civilization.

He meant that because of their single-minded, faultless devotion to the religion of Moses and their strict adherence to ancestral customs, the Jews, descending through history as a compact group, have retained most of the original characteristics which marked them when first they emerged as part of the Syriac civilization thousands of years before Christ.

They are recognized today as being in but not of the societies in which they appear on every portion of the globe. They almost invariably form a minority group, and as such they have been targets for endless persecution.

Socially, world Jewry has been of two minds concerning the most desirable end it could achieve for itself. Those two conflicting trains of thought are represented by the "zionists" and the "dispersionists."

The dispersionists have advocated that Jews should mingle freely with whatever people they have chosen to live among and gradually be assimilated by that people. Zionists, of course, favor establishment of a national homeland — an indestructible ideal ever since Moses led the exodus to Canaan.

Since the war, with Nazi attempts to obliterate German Jews completely and subsequent displacement of millions of European Jews, zionism has been given a tremendous impetus.

That impulse to Zion has been distilled into what the world has come to know as the "Palestine problem." More recently it crystallized even further in the actual establishment of a Jewish state — called Israel — in Palestine, ancient homeland of the pre-Christian era Jews.

ISRAEL: In Palestine

Events moved with the swiftness of time itself in the Holy Land. Ritualizing the expiration of Great Britain's 30-year mandate rule over Palestine, Sir Alan Cunningham, British high commissioner, hauled down his personal flag in Jerusalem and flew to Haifa where he boarded a cruiser.

That was that. Britannia no longer ruled the Palestinians.

Then the Jews, who had been denied a legally partitioned state, proclaimed the existence of a new,

JERUSALEM
... Jew or Arab? ...

Independent republic in Palestine which was to be called Israel.

Before Israel was 20 minutes old it had received formal diplomatic recognition from the United States, first nation to extend such recognition.

And while Israel was yet only hours old it was already at war. The newborn state was invaded from the north by regular army forces of Lebanon and Syria and from the south by Egyptian troops. It was shelled from the east by Trans-Jordan's Arab Legion and bombed and machine-gunned from the air by Arab planes.

Haganah, the principal Jewish fighting force, rushed troops, seasoned by months of guerrilla warfare, to all fronts and the fighting settled down to the pattern with which every adult in the world has become familiar.

During the initial furor, Israel's provisional council of state managed to find time to elect Dr. Chaim Weizmann, a scientist and elder statesman of zionism, first president of the nation.

Most momentous news connected with establishment of Israel was the agonizingly prompt U. S. diplomatic recognition of the state.

CRISIS: Supersonic

There is a "crisis" developing in military aviation, says Cmdr. Lynn S. Beals Jr., navy doctor, because it is not yet known how to keep human beings healthy when they fly faster than sound.

Main trouble is from vertical vibration — the up-and-down motion that comes as a plane reaches the speed of sound. This vibration is so fast that it equals five to six times the pull of gravitation.

FARM PLAN: Truman's

To shore up his sinking political prestige in his campaign for re-nomination, President Truman proposed to congress a four-point farm program which he claimed is "essential" to a productive, prosperous agriculture in the U. S.

Burden of his message were these recommendations:

1. A permanent system of "flexible" price supports for agricultural commodities.
2. "Full support to the continuance and expansion of our program of soil conservation."
3. "Legislation by congress to continue and strengthen programs to assure adequate consumption of agricultural products."
4. "We need to consider other means for assisting farmers to meet their special problems. For example, we must support and protect farm cooperatives. We must continue to work toward a sound system of crop insurance."

There was nothing very startling about the proposals, and they carried the unmistakable ring of a campaign year bid for the farmers' favorable attention.

ITALY: Vox Pop

Luigi Einaudi, 74, a banker, is to be president of the Italian republic for the next seven years.

He was elected at a joint session of both houses of parliament on the fourth ballot after the Communists, who had been supporting Enrico de Nicola, threw their votes to him. On three previous ballots none of the presidential prospects had been able to command the required majority because of the Communist bloc.

An opponent of communism, Einaudi also was a foe of Mussolini's brand of fascism. He is an internationally known writer on public finance and economic history.

Einaudi's first task as president of the republic was to designate a premier and instruct him to form a cabinet. There was no doubt that he would name Alcide de Gasperi, premier of the provisional government, to continue in that capacity on a permanent basis.

DISPLACED: Bill Pending

Although the desperate problem of Europe's displaced persons has not been attracting much headline attention lately, congress has been busy working out legislation to admit quotas of DPs into the U. S. Latest report was that an informal poll showed that a majority of the senate would vote for a bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons into this country during the next two years.

The actual bill being considered by the senate judiciary committee sets the figure at 100,000 DP immigrants for the next two years, but several senators have introduced amendments to raise that total to 200,000 and to remove some restrictions imposed by the committee.

One senate source said the poll indicated that at least 55 senators were ready to vote for the less restrictive version. The house judiciary committee already has approved a similar measure to admit 200,000 DPs in the next two years.

ATOMIC RACE: Official

Governments of the world never have been farther from outlawing the use of atomic weapons. In fact, the atomic armament race is just settling down to a long, straightaway dash.

It is a contest involving astronomical costs, with horrible disaster if not ultimate destruction possibly lurking just beyond the horizon.

So far the U. S. is well in the lead, as indicated by the recent announcement of the development and successful testing of three new atomic weapons which are said to supersede the original atom bombs in destructive power.

The United Nations atomic energy commission made the race official when, after two years of fruitless effort to work out some kind of international atomic control, it finally voted to suspend negotiations.

Other developments followed swiftly to prove that the U. S. is deadly serious about developing a powerful and diversified atomic arsenal.

David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, reported that the "present stage of the commission's tests of atomic weapons is concluded."

President Truman then authorized the commission to take "steps . . . at once for further development based on information gained from the tests."

What Russia was doing about atomic weapons remained pretty much of a mystery, at least as far as the American public was concerned. It was an accepted fact that the Russians knew how to make an atom bomb. Whether they had the industrial facilities to do so still remained a matter of considerable conjecture.

There is nothing wrong with the White House that a lot of fire-proofing won't fix, he said, but it needs a lot of money.

President Talks—Everyone Wants to Get in on the Act

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—The colonel was talking to the general. It was obvious that the general was as bored as his secretary looked, her interrupted dictation on her crossed knee, which she uncrossed as the general's eye wandered.

The colonel was the army's No. 1 specialist on the super-gadget which was about to revolutionize warfare, as the colonel could (and would, if he got a chance) tell you. The colonel knew the history of the

through the days of delicate interplay when it broke up the Empire of Charlemagne, and on down to the fall of Stalingrad.

The colonel had brought the general about up to the third Punic war and the secretary was wiggling. The general himself had begun to fumble with form 2A-3064-B29. The colonel realized that he was rapidly losing his audience. So he raised his voice so that file clerks in the next office stopped filing (their fingernails) and looked up.

"By the way, General," he remarked confidentially, "did you know that I'm writing the President's next speech? The one he delivers to the Inter-Planetary association?"

The general's secretary perked up . . . the general raised an eyebrow . . . the colonel smiled . . .

At about the same hour, over in the Metropolitan club, a very dapper young man from the division of the Far, Near and Middle East and expert in economic-ethic pathology, was sipping a thin scotch-and-soda which his chief had just ordered. His chief was bored.

"By the way, Chief," he said in a whisper so loud that even the waiters stopped looking respectful and listened: "I'm writing the President's next speech at the Inter-Planetary association's conference."

In four other places, four other young experts were telling their bosses the same thing. All were perfectly honest, all were believed, and in 20 minutes or so, stenographers, clerks, messengers, waiters and cab drivers were pointing out "the guy who writes the President's speeches."

All this has been going on, I suppose, in world capitals since before somebody else thought he had codified the code of Hammurabi.

What really happens is this: The President calls in one of his more literary secretaries—all of them are literate, but not all literate (some—those whose duties are conversing with politicians, don't have to be too literate). The President says to the literary one: "Bill, in this speech I have to write for the Inter-Planetary conference, I'm going to mention the super-gadget, and I want to touch on the current economic and social situation in Beluria, also there are some erosion statistics I need, and some data on the problems which arose as a result of the Whiskey Rebellion."

"Oke, Chief," says the literary secretary, and on his way back to his office, he begins classifying, according to departments, the people he thinks may have the facts or the people who will know who knows somebody who has the facts. He either phones or dictates a brief memo to these people, requesting not more than one page from each on the subjects indicated.

Highly-pleased young and old men, on receipt of the memo or phone call, begin leafing through their research libraries and dictating to their secretaries. In two days, a number of large packages are delivered to the White House via special messengers. The literary secretary curses and sets to work boiling down a 24-page thesis on the progression of tau-mute from the Sanskrit et elia to a sentence and a half which he has his stenographer type into the rough draft of the speech which the President has dictated and sent to him for the purpose.

Franklin Roosevelt became angered because columnists persisted in "revealing" which confidential adviser wrote the last speech he delivered, whatever it was, that he once showed us the actual draft of a speech he had dictated and written, and re-written as was his custom. In fact, the last-minute revising of Roosevelt's interlined manuscripts often went on while newshounds growled in the outer office and mimeographers stood by to handle the finally-okayed sheets in "takes."

President Truman got a little peeved recently over the same line of columnar chatter and began to "let it be known" that he could write himself. Of course, all presidents get advice, counsel, assistance and inspiration from many men of many minds. Of course, there are humanitarians and grammarians, stylists and Carlyle-ists, lexicographers and geographers, economists and agronomists, Russians, Prussians and Persians upon whom he can call if he need arises.

And somehow or other, each and all, if they but contribute one jot or tittle to the sacred paper, think they wrote the whole—or at least the stenographer who had to take down all the stuff hopefully offered for possible presidential use thinks so, and tells her friends about it—confidentially.

The problem of presidential speeches is much to the fore these days for this reason: President Truman and his advisers, despite the rebel yells, the wails of the defeatists, the triumphant roar of the elephant and the ominous hoofbeats of the polls as they Gallup downhill, still believe he has a fighting chance to return in November to the White House, and he intends to fight for it.

The President is going on a speaking tour of the West — of course, it isn't a campaign, that would be undignified and immodest before the convention has asked. He will speak under no "political sponsorship." But he will speak and he is going to ad lib, as we say in the trade. Even if we hadn't had our ears conditioned for 12 long years by the golden voice that breathed over the firesides, the oratorical oratory of Harry Truman when he reads a speech, be it ever so humble, never would be mistaken for the vox humana or the angels' chorus.

But when Harry Truman gets up and talks, he's very human, very sensible, and not altogether un-persuasive. So from now on, he's going to speak extemporaneously, no matter how much preparation it takes.

He showed what he could do with out notes or manuscript (and without learning by rote) when he addressed the newspaper publishers and the Gridiron club in April, and again in May when he talked off-the-cuff to the national conference on family life in Washington.

And since such speeches aren't written, nobody can say he wrote them for him.

'Will to Peace' Finds Expression

Next month a "national conference for the prevention of World War III" will be held on the campus of Grinnell college in Iowa.

The purpose is to present a "definite, concrete working plan to prevent a third world war; methods which can be presented to the two national political conventions at Philadelphia."

The roster of speakers will include representatives of many of the organizations now working for a single sovereign, world organization.

Meanwhile Winston Churchill is hammering steadily at his purpose of building a United States of Europe. Although the Atlee government has not approved the idea, the prime minister himself has spoken words of encouragement regarding the formation of a real federalization of the western union.

Atlee even went so far as to say that Britain was willing to sacrifice her sovereignty in part to bring it about, although he qualified the promise by saying the time was not yet ripe for such a step.

But Churchill wants to strike now. He received considerable support from the unofficial gathering in the Hague—a forum, they called it—composed of representatives of the Marshall plan countries, plus exiled leaders.

Churchill's proposals and the Grinnell conference are both part of the tremendous "will to peace" that currently is finding expression.

Perhaps eventually we will learn that great lesson of history—to yield the sovereignty that causes wars to the kind of sovereignty that allows not only the other freedoms to the individual but which, also will give him freedom from the FEAR of war. Just as the federalization of the separate colonies made the citizen of the state of New York free from the fear of war with the state of Pennsylvania—a situation possible because both recognize a higher sovereignty—the United States government.

AS FAR as anyone can see now, the month of June will be a big one for boxing with Louis defending his title against Walcott.

Louis says this will be his last fight.

What will happen if Louis wins, and then retires? The heavyweight division will be the way Gene Tunney left it years ago. Then the aftermath included Schmeling, Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock.

This was not what you'd call the greatest collection of fighting flesh ever thrown together. On a general average it was pretty sorry stuff. There wasn't a top fighter in the lot. Yes, Schmeling knocked out Louis, but Baer knocked out Schmeling. And so did Louis in the return match.

Tunney left a sorry bunch of fighters in his wake—until Louis came along. Louis made up for the mediocrity of the others that preceded him. It was Dempsey, Tunney, chaos and Louis.

What will it be after Louis? Suppose Louis wins. That will leave chaos again. If Walcott wins, Jersey Joe will be the new champion. No one can rate Jersey Joe a great champion. He has been just another heavyweight too long; just another average fighter who happened to remain in shape when Louis didn't.

You can't sell a number of fighters, even champions, the idea that condition is as important as their own native skill. Yet condition happens to be more important than anything Louis has—his punch, his boxing skill, his gameness.

Louis as the heavyweight champion defending his title against Walcott was a joke, a travesty on training, on condition. He was a puffy fat man who couldn't move out of his tracks.

He returned from his exhibition tour in England weighing at least 240 pounds, and then worked desperately to lose 25 pounds in a few weeks.

Louis took on Walcott as a joke. If Louis can win in the condition he has to offer for late June, Walcott must be a joke. Louis will have to create a miracle to be even close to the form that made him, and kept him, champion so many years.

Medal Play Is Tops

Medal play and match play are two entirely different forms of golf. Especially on the psychological side, which is a big part of golf.

I still think medal play is the rougher test, where every stroke is important. This isn't true of match play where you can take a nine and only one hole.

There is no chance to give you concentration a vacation in medal play. There is in match play. In medal play you are fighting both the field and the course. In match play, your opponent is one man.

The Live Ball

It has remained for a young, rookie pitcher to call a check on your reporter and also enter what is perhaps a well-deserved rebuke. This rookie pitcher is smart—and what is more important—he also can pitch. Up to $100,000 was offered for his service in the box.

"You write," he said, "that Johnson, Walsh, Alexander, McIlty and others pitched around 400 innings or more. That's right. You also write that no modern pitcher can work 300 innings. Most of the good ones are 250-inning pitchers. That's right too. But don't forget those old pitchers were throwing a half-dead ball—a spit ball—a fuzzed-up ball—a logy ball that Samson couldn't hit out of a bandbox ball park."

"Now, check back with me. Home-run Baker hit 12 home runs in one year and promptly was labelled 'Home-Run' Baker. Here is the king of all home-run hitters. He smashes 12 four-baggers in one season and he is the king. Why today, some of these bums I'm throwing at might pile up 12 home runs in two weeks."

"I'm telling you," he continued, "that today we are throwing explosive bombs to the plate. Every ball we throw is loaded with dynamite. You can take a broom and hit one for three bases."

"You remember those old Yankees headed by Ruth and Gehrig? They set a home-run record that never would be broken, and they were swinging at a rabbit ball. Last year the Giants came along and made those Ruth-Gehrig Yankees look like bunters. They were hammering at a rubber ball, even faster than the one Babe and Gehrig swung at."

"To show the difference, if Ruth were playing in the day of 'Home-Run' Baker, his top would have been 20 home runs for the entire season."

Which reminds me that I ran into Larry Lajoie a few years after he had quit and the lively ball had come into use. Larry played in an old-timer's game.

"I'm glad," he said, "we didn't have this modern ball when I played."

Build It From A Pattern

The pattern offered below takes all the mystery out of building the table to any size needed. While the pattern suggests making it six feet, it provides complete, easy to follow, directions for making it longer, if desired. All materials used in building this table are stock size and readily obtainable at lumber yards everywhere.

Building the table or other pieces of lawn furniture provides an economical solution to your household equipment problems. In many cases two articles can be made for less than one costs ready made. Besides saving money, woodworking provides hours of complete relaxation. Once you've experienced the deep down satisfaction of seeing lumber turn into a useful picnic table or lawn chair, you will undoubtedly become one of a huge army of "Build It Yourself" enthusiasts.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Gardner Needs Check Up Now for Replanting

The Hamlin area man with the rake or the shovel or a hand of seed packages is the man who is to save on the food bill this spring and summer. And right now the time for this man to make a check-up on his garden, says H. C. Wiley Jr., county agent.

Check up on the plantings already in the ground or that are now starting up: Sweet corn, peas, beans, cabbage, swiss chard, carrots, spinach and mustard. Make a good planting of mustard. It's not too late to plant cabbage, carrots and English peas.

Plant both pole and bush beans, but do not forget to inoculate with nitrogen-fixing bacteria, a dust or powder that can be bought at seed or drug stores, advises Stanley Wiley, who gives the beans extra vigor and growth, and helps to increase yields. Wait until the weather warms up to plant lima beans. This bean is warm weather, and "catches cold" easily.

Yellow crookneck, acorn and Fordhook are three good squash varieties to plant, and give a harvest range from 30 to 60 days. Sow cucumber in rows one foot apart, and when the vines begin to run, thin one vine every two feet. Cucumbers are good for slicing into salads or pickling.

Leaf lettuce may be planted now or late spring and summer production, and this is a good time to start quail if the soil is warmed up pretty well. Okra takes lots of heat, and will not grow until the sun begins to bear down. Allow two to three feet of space between peppers and eggplants so they will have lots of room to grow.

Thin late planted beets to two to three inches apart, and use the ones that are taken out to fill in skips to get a uniform stand. Set out tomato plants now, and do not forget the cut worm menace that will eat many of these vegetables, says Stanley. After making this check-up, the spring gardener may take comfort in knowing he is off to a good start for this year's garden.

Dairy Manufacturing Moves Upward for Fourth Straight Time

Hamlin area and other Texas dairy manufacturing moved upward for the fourth consecutive month, according to a report to The Herald early this week from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Milk consumed in the manufacture of dairy products rose 48 per cent in April to 58,399,000 pounds, or 34 per cent less than April 1947.

All types of dairy products shared in the March-to-April rise. American cheese more than doubled March production, for the greatest monthly gain. "Other" products jumped 62 per cent; creamery butter, 44 per cent; and ice cream, 22 per cent.

Compared to April 1947 manufacture of all dairy products fell; creamery butter, 43 per cent; "other", 42 per cent; American cheese, 25 per cent; and ice cream, 15 per cent.

The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index of dairy manufacture increased 10 per cent to 64 per cent of the prewar using as the base 1935-1939 period.

Freight Loadings Gain 3% from March-April

Revenue freight loaded in the southwestern district gained three per cent from March to April according to a report to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

April loadings of 295,269 carloads rose five per cent from a year earlier. Livestock loadings tripled the March level.

The Bureau's seasonally adjusted index of miscellaneous freight loadings moved up two per cent in April to 11 per cent above April of 1947.

Livestock Shipments Show Gain of 16% From March - April

Livestock shipments from the Hamlin area and other Texas stations gained 19 per cent to 12,390 carloads in April according to a report early this week to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Cattle shipments, totaling 10,001 carloads, jumped 46 per cent, for the only March to April rise. The movement of hogs fell 50 per cent; calves, 47 per cent; and sheep, 23 per cent.

Compared to April 1947, livestock shipments were up five per cent. Hog shipments stepped up 32 per cent; sheep, 18 per cent; and cattle and calves, two per cent.

Interstate shipments plus Fort Worth advanced 25 per cent from March to eight per cent above April 1947.

AND SHOULD you encounter this man, exercise care. He's dangerous. Any further news that comes in will . . .

Jerry Anderson snapped off the radio. He'd heard the particulars of the brutal strangulation of Mrs. Prescott and the description of the suspect several times this evening. After that wordy, unlovely portrait of the man, he felt that even he would recognize him if he ever contacted him, but he hoped that he wouldn't. Jerry was no soward, but . . .

After Jerry's recent discharge from the hospital, he decided that he wanted to live out at the cottage while making his plans for the future. His family objected, not without cause, and it wasn't until old Doc Crowder, the family friend and physician, convinced them that it would be a good thing for Jerry to do under the circumstances, that they finally yielded to his wishes. Jerry had spent every summer of his life there, until his enlistment, and he loved the old place.

So, when his mother and Lucy reluctantly left him this afternoon, he was glad. Not that he did not appreciate the things which they had been doing for him, but he wanted to be on his own. He had plans to make and this change and the quiet that he would have would be perfect. He had tried, during his month at home, to apply his own "self-reasoning" method, but to little avail. He felt confident that it could be tested properly by facing his problems independently.

Jerry sat near the window for quite some time trying to make a start at some of that "self-reasoning," but his mind kept reverting to the broadcast he had heard earlier. If the woman only had had a gun, he thought. She probably would have been afraid to use it, though; most women were. He thought of the empty Luger in his bag and wished that he could have tried again to get some ammunition for it. He loved that gun, a gift from one of his buddies who had not come back.

Jerry went into the bedroom and took the gun from his bag. He fondled it and then slipped it into his pocket. He smiled when he realized just how foolish that was. He came back to his chair and lit his pipe.

He had been sitting there for just a few minutes when, suddenly, he heard the back door being opened, and then the click of the light switch. He sat still, wondering who it could be, a dozen thoughts chasing through his mind. He felt the useless gun in his pocket and took it out, gripping it firmly. Now, if ever, he could test himself on several of the things which he had learned during his rehabilitation.

In less than a minute, it seemed, he heard the ice-box door being opened, and a low chuckle came from the intruder. Then he heard things being put on the table. He knew that whoever was in the kitchen seemed sure of himself. He must know, he thought, that even with the whole house lighted, it was practically impossible to see in from any side.

The minutes dragged while he listened to the man eating and drinking. From the noise he was making, slamming the ice-box door and moving his chair, the man undoubtedly thought that he was alone. Perhaps he had seen Lucy and her mother leave hours before and had waited for darkness to come.

After what had seemed an hour, he heard the man get up from the table and walk toward the hall which led into the living room. Jerry knew that his safety depended upon what he would be able to do within the next few minutes. It wasn't a very pleasant spot to be in, but . . .

He thought of the broadcaster's remark, that the killer had not used a car, and that it was suspected that he was making a getaway by the county back-roads and woods. This could be the man. For as long as he could remember, no ordinary tramp had ever strayed so far away from the main highway. He must have come upon the house by accident.

When Jerry heard a hand moving along the wall groping for a light-switch, he stood up and pointed the gun toward the door. Then it happened—the living room light was snapped on. He heard a hoarse cry of surprise.

The man's breathing was heavy as he stood motionless, facing the gun. He had a fear that Jerry could sense was genuine.

"Get 'em up! Who are you and what do you want?" Jerry was an officer in the infantry again as he made the demand.

The man was shaking when he spoke, "You're a cool one, brother. Put that gun down, please, before you hurt somebody." He took a step forward, and Jerry raised the gun and moved it slightly from side to side. Looking toward the man, Jerry was not sure of what he should do next. Then all the admonitions of his teachers came back to him: SHOW NO FEAR—THINK FAST—SPEAK WITH CONFIDENCE—REASON—FOLLOW THROUGH . . .

"Sit down in that chair," Jerry roared, surprised at his loud voice. This gave him a bit of confidence. Then he thought of his next move. "A nut," the man ventured, half under his breath, and he obeyed. He kept his eyes on the gun as though hypnotized by it.

"Shut up and sit still." "You're a smart . . ." The man glanced away from the gun just long enough to see if there was anything near that he could grab. "Wot you going to do? Let me go. I ain't done nothing but eat some of your grub. Honest, mister, I'll get out of here quick if you'll put that gun down." This was the voice of a frightened man, but not the voice or true dialect of a hobo. Jerry relaxed slightly, and the man in the chair moved. This was the time to "follow through" if he was ever going to do it.

"Get up and do exactly as I tell you," he commanded. The man cringed but rose slowly, his eyes still on the gun. He hated guns; he was afraid of guns, and he knew now that this man knew it, too. If he could only knock it to the floor . . .

"Keep your hands high, get to that telephone beside the door, and do as I tell you. Any monkey-business . . ."

The man advanced toward the door and the telephone without looking from right to left. Jerry moved to his side as he passed him. He could feel the man's body tremble, as though he were having a chill, when he touched him with the gun.

THE story of the Cutter family is worth telling in these days when prices are skyrocketing, when all the governments of the world are concerned with the problems of living conditions and when taxes are higher than they ever were in the world before and the rising tide of national debts indicates that they'll stay high.

George Cutter's salary 10 years ago, when his two older children were babies, was $4,200 a year. The family lived on it nicely and paid for a home that is still comfortable, although in a less desirable neighborhood than it was.

Hazel Cutter is a clever and practical woman. She and her husband worked out a budget and felt themselves free of money anxiety. During the war George's pay went up and now he receives $7,200 a year. Taxes of various sorts reduce this income by about $2,000. This leaves him and Hazel $500 a month on which to manage.

Hazel-Ann, Morse and Shirley-Jane are at expensive ages: Shoes, schooling, car fares, dentistry, laundry. Hazel tries to keep food under $50 a week, but can't always manage it, for the young Cutters are hospitable and often her main dish, planned for at least two dinners, is finished at one. Then she has all the worry of today's good mothers to see that the children get fruit juices, green vegetables, milk and cream. And this doesn't include the lunch money or extra milk and cones—both nourishing, but they count up!

They Begin to Worry

About two years ago the senior Cutters found themselves getting worried, nervous, irritable and unsatisfied, bitten by all those financial termites that fret our lives today. They simply couldn't keep the pace set by the children's needs—movies, cameras, new coats, bicycle mending, radio mending, cleaner, school treats, swim suits and a thousand other claims.

The Cutters are more than sensible and practical people. They always have kept and developed the spiritual side of their lives and, as Hazel's letter says, they "took it to the Lord in prayer." Shortly afterward, they invited the children to a family conference and supplied all three, even "Twirley," with pads and pencils.

Then George set down his salary and wrote against it the absolute essentials—taxes of all types; gas, electricity and telephone bills, upkeep for the car, his club dues and his lunches. The older children also wrote down these sums and everyone subtracted them.

Then Mother offered a few calculations. Butcher, baker and grocer had their turn. These were subtracted, too. The children were impressed now, but still there was something close to $200 left and they felt that it was a generous margin.

So George deposited that in the bank at the corner and every night the Cutters checked their daily outlay against it. Everything—daily paper, the telephone, the car, tooth paste, films, candy, magazines, carfare, movies, gum—was listed.

TEAMWORK

With the advent of zooming prices and higher living costs, the Cutter family finds that it is unable to keep its books balanced. Their three children are at ages where demands upon the family purse are exceptionally heavy. Fretful and nervous about the bottomless morass of debt into which they are slowly sinking, Mr. and Mrs. Cutter evolve a simple scheme to retain their financial solvency.

At a family conference each member of the family anticipates his needs for the coming month. Grocery, gas, electricity and tax bills are tabulated. When the expected expenditures are deducted from the net monthly income, a comfortable balance of $200 is left. Thus, a complete plan for the ensuing month is outlined.

About the third week in the month the money was gone.

Children Protest

"But Mother," said Hazel-Ann in tears, "I have to have my dollar for the school picnic." "But Dad," Morse said, aghast, "if your shoes are right through, gosh, don't you have to get new ones?"

"Not unless the money is there," said the senior Cutters.

"But, Mother, you can charge!"

"No, Daddy and I never charge."

"But you could this once."

"No, because your dentist bill is coming in, Hazel-Ann, and we haven't paid for the window Morse broke playing ball."

"But do they have to come out of just that one bank!" the children gasped.

"They do, indeed. So now let's just see what we can do."

The Cutters calculated what they could do without. Mother would do without Dora's help once a week if Hazel-Ann would iron the flat pieces. Morse would earn the dollar Gus got for helping Dad clean the car every Saturday afternoon. Both would walk the extra half mile to public school next term if Dad didn't mind. Dad didn't mind. Everyone would give up daily dimes for comics, cokes and cones. The children grew eager and almost noisy in their enthusiasm.

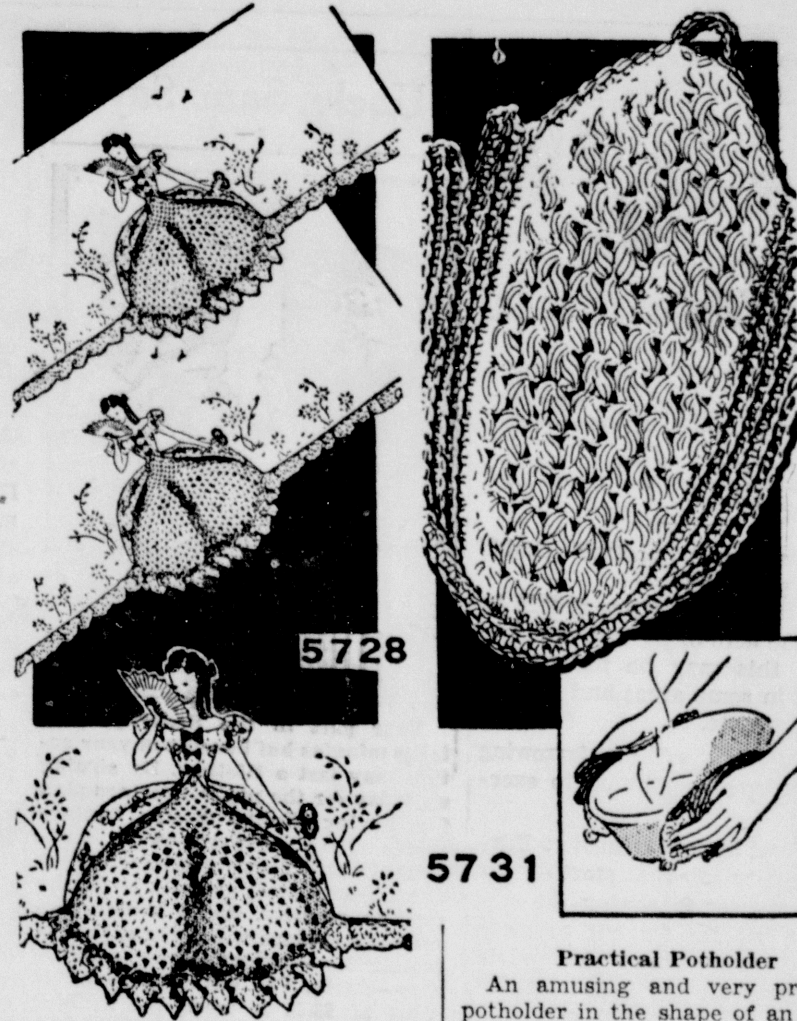

That was two years ago. The Cutters still balance the books every night. If George Cutter gets an unexpected commission, everyone shares in the extra money. If illness or any small domestic accident complicates finances the Cutters take to cheaper meals for a while. And Hazel Cutter is a genius when it comes to vegetable dinners, stews, minces and dried fruit desserts.

No, it wasn't easy or always agreeable and serene. What is? But the older Cutters are solvent and they sleep nights. And the younger Cutters are learning the value of money and not hearing financial battles going on over their heads. And that's something.

Who Owns Wedding Gifts?

DECATUR, ILL. — Taking issue with some etiquette authorities, Judge Martin E. Northland denied the claim of Mrs. Edith Greenberg to $550 worth of wedding presents.

She asked for them as she obtained a divorce from her husband. Judge Northland commented that an authority on etiquette said wedding gifts belong to the wife, "but she cannot be accepted as a legal authority." He ruled that the presents belonged to both.

QUESTION: My hot-water tank is not a year old and I have rusty water coming out of my hot-water faucets. Can you give me any suggestions on the subject?

ANSWER: One reason may be that you the heating the water too much. A temperature of 130 to 140 degrees is hot enough for domestic hot water. When water is heated more than that, sediment is stirred up that is carried along in the water supply. You could prevent overheating by installing an automatic control. Also, your water supply may contain a great deal of sediment, which could be controlled by a water filter.

QUESTION: We are planning to put up a frame cottage of five rooms next summer. Regarding cement blocks for foundation, people have cautioned me against buying blocks that are made during the winter. Is there any reason for this?

ANSWER: It is true that cement work should not be allowed to freeze during the process of manufacture or construction. Reputable cement block manufacturers do not allow this to happen, however, even during the winter.

Many Infallible Proofs

— Grace Noll Crowell

O H, many there are, but in my heart alone
There are a thousand shining proofs that Christ
Is a living force today, for I have known
The white infallible ones that have sufficed
To blot away all doubt: He is so near
That I can touch Him with my reaching hand;
He is so close to me that I can hear
Him speak the simple words I understand.

"Many infallible proofs," He showed to them
As they walked and talked with Him on His earthly way.
But I have often touched His garment's hem,
And felt His healing power as well as they.
Oh, not alone to them came proof on proof—
He shares my loaf, He lives beneath my roof!

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to Farm Facts, 835 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Q—How much pasture should there be per cow?

A—In most cases there should be at least one acre of pasture per cow. However, this may be more than necessary in some areas and is only a rough estimate.

Q—How soon after farrowing should the sow be allowed to exercise?

A—Animal husbandmen at Purdue University say that starting the second day after farrowing the sow should be left out for one or more hours of daily exercise. This activity helps sows to function normally and should not be overlooked.

Q—Is there an effective treatment for foot rot in sheep?

A—The time of treatment depends upon severity and extent of infection in the flock. In severe cases no treatment is particularly effective unless necrotic tissue is pared away. If circumstances warrant individual treatment, apply tannic acid 50 per cent in a lanolin base wax, or use a 10 per cent formaldehyde solution. This or other treatment of individual sheep should be under the supervision of a veterinarian.

When the infection involves the majority of the flock and is not severe, satisfactory results may be obtained by the use of a foot bath trough (wooden) containing a 20 per cent solution of copper sulfate or so-called bluestone. Walk the sheep through this solution at three-day intervals.

Q—How can red mites in the pullet house be controlled?

A—A famous feed concern's demonstration farm puts out an insect oil which when thoroughly painted or sprayed over the roosts, floors and walls of pullet houses should eliminate the red mites and keep them down for about a year.

Q—When cows are on pasture, should they also be fed grain?

A—Yes, feeding the proper proportion of grain ration while cows are on pasture is one of the most important measures of care to keep a herd at capacity production and profit through the year. Even when cows are turned out on the finest of spring pasture, they need a well balanced grain ration to maintain production and still keep up their body weight.

Wheat Grindings Gain 10% From February to March Census Reports

Hamlin area wheat growers and others will be glad to know that wheat grinding gained 10 per cent from February to March, according to a report to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Compared to March 1947, wheat grinding fell 19 per cent to 3,599,000 bushels in March 1948.

The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index dropped 20 per cent in March to 147 per cent of the prewar (1935-39) base period.

Wheat flour production rose nine per cent over February, but slipped 16 per cent below March 1947.

Prices at Southwest Farm Markets Follow Uneven Trend During Past Week

Prices at most of the Southwest markets followed very uneven trends during the past week. According to The Herald from the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cotton prices fell at the first of the week but gained later on to just about reach the level of a week ago. Dallas and Houston quoted spot middling 15-16 inch Friday at 37.90 cents a pound, with Galveston at 37.65, and New Orleans 37.95.

Grains dropped early but climbed back to mostly higher levels than last Friday. Wheat netted three cents, however, and barley eight cents. No. one had wheat closed Friday at $22.49 cents a bushel in bulk carlots at Texas common points. No. 2 white oats brought $1.28 to $1.32 and milo $3.83 to $3.88.

Wheat millfeeds eased, with bran sharply lower, as rains slowed demand. Hay trading moved to the new crop basis, and Kansas City quoted No. 1 alfalfa at $25 a ton. Seed peanuts slid lower almost 20 cents despite active planting. Spring chickens strengthened slightly, but other poultry and eggs held about unchanged for the week.

Current eggs receipts stayed close to the support price of 37 cents a dozen at Dallas and Fort Worth, while Denver paid 36 to 37½ and New Orleans 39 to 41. Friers ranged mostly from 40 to 41 cents but New Orleans paid 43.

Sheep and lamb prices drifted generally 50 cents to $2 lower this week though shorn lamb at Kansas City and all lambs at San Antonio held about steady. Goats sold steady to slightly easier. Medium and good shorn lambs brought $19 to $23 at San Antonio, $19 to $24.50 at Fort Worth, and $21.50 to $24 at Kansas City.

Wool sold higher at 75 to 80 cents a pound for best grease wool in Texas.

Mixed strength and weakness visited southwest cattle markets this week, with prices varying by class and grade from around a dollar higher to a dollar lower at the different terminals. Common and medium slaughter steers and yearling brought $22 to $25 at Houston, and medium and good grades drew $25 to $31 at Fort Worth. San Antonio moved medium steers at $28.50. Kansas City turned high-good and choice steers at $33 to $34, and Denver took medium to choice at $27.75 to $33.

Hogs sold generally higher for the week, but some butcher weights netted losses at Denver and Kansas City. Stocker and feeder pigs showed the greatest strength with gains of $2 to $3.50. Top butcher hogs closed the week at $24.25 at Fort Worth, $24.50 at San Antonio and Denver, and $24.25 at Oklahoma City, Wichita, Kansas City.

Mealtime Magic

Veterans News

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to former service connected personnel by The Herald. Material for the column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Q—Is it correct that training officers from Veterans Administration have been relieved of all responsibility for the direct supervision of World War II veterans training under the GI Bill?

A—Yes. The change will permit VA's training officers to devote more time to the needs of disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. All state approval agencies, schools and training establishments have been asked to meet fully their obligations under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill).

Q—How many veterans suffered speech impairment during World War II and what is being done to aid them in overcoming their handicap?

A—Approximately 100,000 World War II veterans suffered speech impairment in service. Special restorative training has been established by VA to help eligible veterans overcome the handicap.

J—May I name more than one beneficiary to my National Service Life Insurance?

A—Yes. You may divide the amount of your policy between two or more beneficiaries. You may also name one or more contingent beneficiaries.

Q—Can a World War II veteran be denied benefits by Veterans Administration if he has fraudulently obtained subsistence payments under the G-I Bill?

A—In a decision issued recently by Veterans Administration Central Office in Washington, the veterans who fraudulently obtained such subsistence payments would be barred from all rights to compensation, pension, hospitalization, unemployment allowances, education, job-training and other benefits to which veterans are normally entitled.

Hamlin Memorial Hos. News Notes

By BOWEN POPE

Dr. Mrs. J.F. Hocott left Saturday for Galveston where Dr. Hocott is spending this week in the Searley Hospital in a special course for Tumor clinic. This opportunity is the second time he has had a similar course there with all expenses paid. He will be back in the Hamlin Hospital next Monday.

Mrs. P.D. Funderburk, registered nurse, who has been with the Hamlin Hospital since its opening in February, accompanied her husband to Wichita Falls last week in search of a house to live in. Mr. Funderburk has been transferred by the Shell Pipe Line to a new position in Wichita Falls. The house was not found, and pending their move, she will continue to be available for service in the hospital.

Alvin Pittman, age 15, of Rochester was in Hamlin last week visiting his sister, Mrs. Laray Stubbs and became ill. An operation for appendicitis was performed at The Hamlin Hospital on Friday. This young fellow got along so well that he says he wants to get a job right away and maybe some day be one of the doctors.—you can't tell about a boy.

RETONGA GAVE RELIEF WHEN OTHERS FAILED

"It Was All I Could Do To Force Down a Bite or Two Says Mrs. W. E. Mustain in Praising Retonga for Relief
It Gave her from Distress of Indigestion, Gassy Stomach

"As my husband said, "Retonga is one medicine we will be glad to recommend to anyone," happily states Mrs. E. W. Mustain, who lives in her own home with her husband and four children at 2023 N. E. 28th St., Fort Worth, Texas. A member of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Mustain was born and raised in Nacodoches County, Texas. She gratefully adds:

"It was all I could do to force down a bite or two at meal times, because food seemed to stop in my chest and not go down. At night I would have to get up out of bed because I felt like I couldn't breathe, and I suffered untold torture from muscular aches and pains in my shoulder and arms. For two or three hours in the mornings I felt fine, but the rest of the day was a drag for me. I seemed to be full of toxic poisons and just felt awful.

"Retonga gave me the relief that all other medicines I have tried failed to give me. My appetite is good I eat anything I want, and I can take a good, full breath now and not be bothered by that full feeling. These awful aches and pains have let up. I sleep restfully and feel good all day long. I will be glad to personally tell anyone about Retonga."

Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purley herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at WAGGONER DRUG STORE. (Adv)

Editor's Note—Expressions or opinions contained in this column are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of The Herald. Current Comment is merely carried as a feature column.

By LEON GUINN

The whole world has been waiting more or less for the log jam that is now developing in the few weeks that remain before Congress adjourns. . . . News from the capitol gives an inkling as to how the House Appropriations Committee, for example, has not yet started on hearings (full scale) to determine pay for veteran programs. . . . This measure alone will call for millions of dollars, and day by day progress reveals how congressional tempers are growing shorter as campaign days near. . . . Best bet at mid-week is that Congress will "clear the underbrush" and pass only the most urgent of bills needed to keep the ship of state in fair sailing order.

The terror that can strike in the middle of the night, wiping out thousands of persons in a split second is grimly hinted at by competent military men in recent tests of atomic weapons on pock-marked Eniwetok. . . . Latest tests indicate a new type of bomb more powerful than the Bikini types, which carried more death than the Hiroshima variety. . . . Look for the Atomic Energy Commission to revamp and expand a number of plants in the near future. . . . Russia does not care to reveal to the world just how far along Soviet scientists are with atomic research, but it's a safe bet Russia isn't yet ready to nuke on Uncle Sam—especially since the underdog got word back to Moscow to the effectiveness of our newest atomic weapon.

Horse feathers in tapica may not be so crazy as it may first sound before this wacky world gets back on even keel; for, believe it or not, a brand new book is rolling off the press entitled "A Manual for Baby Sitters." . . . In the days we now term olden—those happy days going back 35 to 40 years ago—we had no such "animal" as a "baby sitter," in fact, folks were so busy making a living and bringing a little sunshine into their daily lives they usually let children get a little honest dirt on their faces and hands; a few splinters in their tender knees and feet; and when baby got out of line, hickory tea was about the most effective remedy known to mankind. . . . This new book, by the way, is being published by Little-Brown, and supposed to make the business of baby sitting scientific and quite profitable.

Little-Brown overlooked a rather important point, too, in their book for baby sitters when they failed to outline what people should do when a "sitter" is caught with a baby over 18 in his lap. . . . However, the tender years of childhood are expected to be the most precious, and parents with the modern view need to be honky-tonking, out of town for the week-end or probably neck deep in a love triangle; therefore, they need to pay hired hands to look after such unimportant things as children and especially put the "tykes" to bed when day is done. . . . The successful sitter needs to almost complete four years in college to be well qualified for his or her position, for the successful in this career need to know what kind of stories to read to put baby to laughing; in a mood to mind without spanking, and what type of psychology to use when baby (if under 18) will not eat its capsuled nourishment. . . . Well, Little-Brown might as well add to the general confusion because children are becoming so expensive only the poor can afford many.

Reliable reports, as verified from several sources, indicate U. S. and Russian trade will come in soon for a minor revival. . . . You will note that exchange of goods between the two countries has almost stopped completely. . . . We feel at the moment that exportation of goods that are neither of military nor probable military value are to be encouraged. . . . Machine tools, you can wager your Roosevelt dimes, will be on the banned list. . . . The Department of Commerce, rest assured, has a forbidden list now of what cannot be shipped abroad (to world markets) and those in key positions say the forbidden list has been greatly revised during the last six months. . . . Notice that Hoffman is getting a little worried over the fact Congress has not yet voted full ERP appropriations. . . . He has already committed that billion in stop-gap funds he got from Reconstruction Finance Corporation for immediate export.

Discount any propaganda from overseas to the contrary, it is reemphasized this week, for the United States firmly intends to cling to the U. S. zone in Berlin. . . . We have, as a long range objective, setting up some happy day a disarmed but Democratic German state.

Early Control Effective

A sound cotton program in Jones County and the rest of the Cotton Belt leads to balanced production, lower costs, better cotton and higher profits. These aims are a part of the seven-step cotton program that has been projected for several years. Success is already being attained in noticeable degrees.

Insect control is one of the important steps in such a program. It pays best when the land is capable of producing one-third of a bale or more per acre, Extension Service workers declare, and all of Hamlin area land will come in this classification in normal years.

Already H. C. Stanley Jr., Jones County farm agent, is talking with producers about their insect poisoning plans. The cotton producers themselves agree that a program of early poisoning is most effective, and area producers will try to be ready when infestations need poisoning put into effect.

A few days ago Stanley declared that there is now in the county a supply of poison available for farmers, for grasshoppers and other insects. An alerted group of producers will be ready to cope with the insect menace.

Bury Part of Your Wealth

Contrary to the advice given by most economists, The Herald urges the Hamlin area farmer and rancher who raise crops to go out and bury part of their wealth. We believe that is the practical, sound thing to do in times like these. If there is to be wealth to be enjoyed in decades to come, experience teaches that burying your wealth is practical.

Of course, we have reference not to actual silver and greenbacks, but to legumes and other past crop residues that will give untold richness to the soil so that greater crops may be raised on the land in following years.

Plow a green manure crop into your land as often as necessary to keep the productivity up. Winter and summer legume crops help you make a better living.

Those crops add nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. They protect against erosion by wind and water. They produce good green grazing, hay, seed. Talk with the Soil Conservation Service technicians in the California Creek Soil Conservation District about proper inoculation, fertilizers and other practical pointers about enrichment of the soil.

Power Industries Progress

According to an article in Public Utilities by John P. Callahan of the New York Times, "Federal Power men . . . have on the drawing boards, or are completing, 29 projects involving almost four billions of dollars for construction."

This is simply additional proof of the fact that the ultimate goal of the public power group is complete socialization of the electric industry of this country—and centralized, political control of an absolutely vital resource. The program cannot be justified on the grounds of necessity.

The electric industry has proven itself completely capable of serving the farms, industries and homes of the nation, and its present great expansion program will provide a safe margin between supply and demand in a relatively short time.

The federal power drive in the U. S. is based on ideological grounds which parallel the communistic philosophy. It is an example of European collectivist thinking applied to America. Socialization of the electric industry would be a perfect precedent to socializing all other basic industry. It would be a springboard, leading to the establishment of a totalitarian economic system in the United States, which we profess to abhor.

MacArthur Is Good Soldier

We have an idea that General MacArthur is sorry that he ever wrote a letter admitting that he would be eligible for the presidency. He has made a very poor showing up to the present time.

Frankly, the people of America are not interested in a military president at the present time. Eisenhower knows this to be a fact, and has taken himself out of the running. He maintains, and rightly so, that America should not have a military man at the head of the government.

MacArthur is an able general. He is making a good record in handling the civilians of Japan, but he rules with an iron hand, according to observers who have been to Japan. He would be disappointed in his administration should he return as a military hero and attempt to rule Congress as he rules the Japs. It is just as well that MacArthur know now that he is not acceptable to the people as head of the government.

15,000 West Texas Veterans Eligible For Increased Rates of Pay in August

More than 15,000 West Texas World War II veterans in education and training programs in this area will be eligible for increased rates of pay through the Veterans Administration based on legislation signed several days ago by President Truman, Robert W. Sisson, VA regional manager at Lubbock, has announced in a release to The Herald.

About 650 Jones County veterans are eligible under the education and training programs. Veteran trainees are urged not to write to the VA regional office at Lubbock, or to any other VA office, asking how to qualify for the increased subsistence benefits. This most recent change in legislation increases the wage ceilings, and the number of dependents, which determines the amount of subsistence allowance VA can pay the veteran trainees. The new law also increases the subsistence allowances for part-time school training and for combination school and job training, including institutional on-the-farm training.

Sisson said that the higher rates will be paid automatically to those veterans whose existing applications with VA contain the information needed to certify them for the increase. Adjustments for disabled veterans training under the vocational rehabilitation (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic.

When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI Bill, the veteran will receive a form from the VA regional office asking for the necessary data. Since adjustments will be made on the basis of these completed forms, veterans are urged to return them immediately when they are received.

Due to the necessity of checking the more than 15,000 individual files and the accounting process involved, initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July subsistence checks are sent out about August 1. The increase will be retroactive to April 1, 1948, in most cases, and the initial payment at the adjusted rate will include all increases due from April 1 through the end of the subsistence period covered by that check.

Higher ceilings for on-the-job trainees provide that earned income plus subsistence shall not exceed $210 a month for a veteran without dependents, $270 for a veteran with one dependent, and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Previous limits were $175 for a veteran without dependents and $290 for a veteran with one or more dependents. In the case of veterans in job training only, no change was made in the maximum subsistence payable of $65 a month to veteran without dependents and $90 to a veteran with one or more dependents.

RAILROADING DELUXE

The trend in railroad car designing has us dizzy. It's all very well to spring a new de luxe car once or twice a year but when they come out once or twice an hour it is too much. Having done about everything possible to the outside of our trains, the boys now are working wonders with the inside. One road has just come out with a recreation car which includes (cross my heart!) a game and reading lounge, a children's inclosed playroom, an automat lunch, a sunken buffet lounge and a news-reel theater!

We have come to a point on our railroads where everything is so cozy that a passenger finds life drab and unbearable when he gets off.

This latest recreation car has everything except a bowling alley, squash court, swimming pool and fishing lodge. The motif is so swanky that when a conductor enters he seems almost an intruder from the other side of the tracks. Noting the "In case of emergency" cord a passenger is apt to interpret it as an emergency when a cardtable wobbles, the griddlecakes are underdone or the movies are blurred.

Nobody will deny that for years there has been a crying need for improvement in railroad cars, but the present pace in modernization is dazzling. Changes come out so rapidly that a passenger no longer is surprised if an orchestra pit and sunken garden are added during a station stop.

The result is disquieting. We like comfort and a little swank, but when we board a choo-choo these days we feel as uncertain as when we are going through a night club on which the workmen still are busy. We have a feeling the conductor may ask us at any moment to step forward while a new rumpus room is installed.

When we take a de luxe train we keep wondering whether we are going to be disturbed by paper hangers, rug layers and interior decorators between stops. We observed a puzzled lady board a super-duper train recently and ask, "Can you direct me to the railroad car?"

Our trains are becoming Alice-in-Wonderland studios in pastels, murals, panels and upholstery trends. There are moments when we are not sure whether we are going places by railroad or by Good Housekeeping and Vogue.

And then there was the case of the two girls who disgustingly exclaimed after walking through four cars, "What! No floor show?"

John Ringling North says he will not permit general broadcasting of the circus by television. This is a source of relief to countless housewives. Once the elephants come stomping into the living room by video it will be a frightful job sweeping the peanut shucks from the rugs.

And it would be confusing too. At times we couldn't be too sure which was Gargantua and which was the radio commentator.

When we think of Citation we think of mother in the kitchen making bread and cookies... at the mention of Coaltown our mind centers on thousands of housewives baking a cake or preparing a potpie. We love horses and it comforts us to dwell on the fact that there is such a strong tie between a horse and a cruller.

Battle of Coral Sea Termed
First Big Defeat for Japan

In the battle of that island-studded ocean known as the Coral sea, which is near the Solomon islands and about 1,000 miles northeast of Australia, America's first real victory of the war with Japan was scored. The action occurred on May 4, 1942, and called for deeds of valor as thrilling as any in all American history.

The Coral sea battle was the first great naval defeat ever dealt the imperial Japanese fleets. And yet this battle was fought entirely in the air, by the planes of opposing aircraft carriers.

The ships engaged in this battle never got sight of each other. They slugged it out without firing a single gun at another ship—the first engagement of its kind in history. In this first great victory for the U. S. in this global war the Japs lost more than 15 ships sunk and at least 20 others severely damaged. The action perhaps saved Australia from invasion.

However, America paid a high price for her victory in the sultry Coral sea. In this engagement the aircraft carrier, Lexington, famed ship that laid the foundation of our modern navy's aircraft carrier operations, went to the bottom. This happened on May 7.

Bullock, Colorado City Announces Candidacy 24th District Senate

To the Voters of the 24th Senatorial District:
Early in January of this year I announced my candidacy for reelection to a second full term in the Texas Senate. I now want to take this opportunity to solicit the votes and influence of the citizens of this district in the July primary.
During my service as your Senator the Lieutenant Governor has seen fit to place me on a number of the most important committees in the Senate.
In addition to my regular assignment, I was appointed on the following special committees: The powerful Senate Investigating Committee; the Educational Investigating Committee, and the Joint Legislative Rural Aid Committee which supervised the distribution of Rural Aid to the various school districts of Texas qualifying to receive aid under the law.
I have tried earnestly to represent the people of the 24th Senatorial District as well as all of the people of Texas while serving on committees and when casting my vote on the Senate floor. I have never dodged an issue nor have I ever ridden the fence on any measure.

Since becoming a member of the Senate I have consistently opposed new taxes of any type. Our tax burden is too heavy now. If and when new taxes are needed to adequately finance our state government they should come from sources other than an ad valorem

Health Officer Says Permitting Children To Die of Diphtheria

It is a tragedy that Texas parents continue to allow their babies to suffer and die from that painful and killing disease diphtheria. This is the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, who says "It is up to the parents. If they protect their children with immunization, they need not have diphtheria."

Dr. Cox said that it is amazing that this disease should be allowed to take its toll of young lives when it can be entirely stamped out by proper immunization. Yet in the past week 32 cases were reported in this state.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months. A second dose is usually given later.

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who have never been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay, the state health officer declared.

serve the interest of the people from this Senatorial District I will greatly appreciate their vote and influence. If elected I will be grateful for this support and in return will endeavor to serve all of the people to the best of my ability.

I will appreciate hearing from friends from over the District. Please drop me a line to Box 846, Sweetwater, Texas.

Ellison and Johnson Listed As Among Graduates at HS-U

Jack Ellison and Alvin Johnson two former Hamlin High School gridiron specialists who still refer to Hamlin as home, are listed among the 145 spring candidates for graduation at Hardin-Simmons University, Dr. Robert A. Collins, dean, has announced.

Ellison and Johnson will graduate with the largest spring class in the school's history. Another record will also be set by Hardin-Simmons this year. For the first time, August exercises will be held for students completing work during the summer. A total of 120 students are slated for degrees at that time.

Both Johnson and Ellison have brought wide recognition to both Hamlin and Hardin-Simmons, Ellison as a three-year letterman in guard position for the Cowboys and Johnson as three year stalwart at quarterback.

Both were named all-Border Conference before their graduation. Johnson received the honor in 1946 and 1947 while Ellison was named all conference last year.

Both men are to receive their Bachelor of Science degree from HSU this spring with majors in Physical Education. Ellison, however, minored in Biology and English while Johnson minored in History.

With regards to the future, both lads have already penned contracts that will keep them in the sporting world. Since he completed his required work in January, Ellison has been assistant coach at Texas School of Mines, El Paso. He will return to Abilene for the exercises.

Johnson, meanwhile, has signed to play professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles. Along with him will go teammate J. C. "Bullet" Cook of Baird, who is also graduating this spring. During spring training this year, Johnson has been helping Coach Warren B. Woodson train next year's backfield aspirants led by last year's freshman flash, Wilton "Hook" Davis.

56th annual commencement exercises will be held Monday May 31, in historic Behrens Chapel on the Hardin-Simmons campus. Allan Chivers, Lieutenant Governor of Texas, is scheduled to be guest speaker.

Max Murrel arrived home for the summer last Saturday from SMU at Dallas.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Light Cases of Minor Diseases Need Care Says Health Officer

With the incidence of chickenpox 100 per cent higher than records indicate for a seven-year median, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, this week issued a statement to people of the Hamlin area declaring:

"It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of childhood diseases such as chickenpox, measles, mumps, scarlet fever or whooping cough as though they did not amount to much. That sort of treatment makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children and their resulting impaired resistance makes them easy victims to other forms of infection."

"Some of the most serious outbreaks of chickenpox have been traced to mild cases—that is, cases so light that the doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs among their schoolmates. Strict isolation of chickenpox patients is the only means by which the spread can be controlled and parents should cooperate fully in isolating a child as long as the doctor thinks is advisable."

The state health officer said that the family doctor is the best judge of the seriousness of such childhood diseases, and suffering and anxiety will be avoided if the doctor's advice is sought and followed throughout the course of the illness.

According to federal statistics the American farmer receives 62 cents of every dollar spent by consumers for his products.

TALL TALES OF STAMPEDES

"It was dark'n the inside of a cow with her lights drilled out!" explained Frank Mitchell, night rider of the JA herd, as he described a stampede that won for his horse a new name—that of Flying Machine.

It seems that Mitchell was one of the eight or 10 cowhands that was helping to trail break the 2,000 head from the Palo Duro canyons as they stretched out towards D-ge. Now these cattle were the progeny of Goodnight's new cross-breeding program, which he had started with 100 Durham bulls in 1877—just three years before, when they had moved down from Colorado. Their hides were a little darker and perhaps their legs a mite shorter, but that old Longhorn spirit seemed to be with them still. They liked to sniff up a stampede, especially on a dark night.

The night was to still, for one thing; and when the darkness had begun to settle, it hadn't waited down gently. It dropped like a stuff shroud. There had been no sign of breeze and the air was clear as a bell. The lease sound cut the night like a whip.

Mitchell began singing to the cattle as he encircled their bedding ground, but he soon found that he had turned in to soon and was in the midst of the herd; he had been unable to see. Then a glimmer of lightning showed him those animals, every head was lifted expectantly, as if awaiting some certain signal.

"Let me out of here and quick!" he muttered as he tried to quickly turn his horse about with out frightening them. It wouldn't take much to jump that herd now.

And then it happened. A clap of thunder split the air, and the cattle arose as a unit. The herd swept

Crippled Children Will Say Thanks To Hospital's Donors

Jean Monteith, 6, of Nugent, is one of 5,245 crippled children of Texas whose thanks will be expressed to benefactors of Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, Dallas, when the institution holds its annual memorial service in May. The ceremony, honoring men and women who have left bequests in their wills to carry on the hospital's work, will be broadcast over Radio Station WFAA 570 from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 23. A floral wreath from present and former patients will be placed on the memorial statue which bears the donor's names.

forward, and so did Mitchell, riding their fellochs.

"Well, the stampede headed for a bluff that I didn't know was there," Mitchell continued with his story, "and so did I."

"But you know, that horse didn't

Livestock Prizes At State Fair of Texas Increased

Hamlin area exhibitors were interested this week in announcement that a total premium of $62,191 for the 1948 livestock and junior livestock shows at the State Fair of Texas, representing a substantial increase over last year, as announced by R. L. Thornton, state fair president. National and state pure-bred livestock associations cooperating with the state fair, are offering $11,459 of this amount.

Twenty-six breeds of livestock will compete for a premium of $52,123 at the state fair's livestock show, to be held October 13 to 22.

A record number of 4-H Club members and Future Farmers is expected to compete in the state fair's junior livestock show, October 9 to 12, for a total premium of $10,068.

Jones County exhibitors last year placed several animals in the winning brackets.

Improvement in the quality and breeding of livestock to bring about more efficient production of milk, meat, wool and mohair, and a more prosperous livestock industry on farms and ranches of Texas, is the fundamental objective behind the greatly increased emphasis on the livestock program for the 1948 State Fair," Mr. Thornton said in a release to The Herald.

In 1947 attendance at the fair totaled 1,763,821—an all-time record—and included farmers, ranchers, business men who own farms and ranches and the largest group of 4-H boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers in the country. Attendance for 1948 is expected to exceed 2,000,000.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Instead of sewing shoulder pads into dresses, attach them with small snaps. Sew top half of snap to shoulder seams, lower half on pads. Snap out at laundry or cleaning time: one pair will do for several dresses and blouses, too.

An ordinary alarm clock may be used to indicate when cakes should come out of the oven, and time other household tasks.

A little butter or cooking oil added to the water when cooking sweet potatoes will eliminate the "ring around the pan".

When unsetting the table, stack dishes orderly in place to be washed so that they will not have to be moved or restacked before washing.

Always remove colored clothes from washline as soon as they are dry: sunlight, a natural bleach, is hard on colors.

Colorless nail polish makes a good substitute for glue.

Custom Work on Farms

Two reasons account, in large measure, for the heavy demand for custom work with farm machinery during the past few years. In the first place, the amount of machinery available on most farms simply is not sufficient to meet the demand resulting from the shortages of labor and increased purchasing power in the hands of farmers. Secondly, numerous farms are now and always have been too small to make effective and economical utilization of many types of farm equipment. The only way the operator of a small farm can have economical access to certain types of machinery is either to hire a custom operator to do the work for him, or, if he elects to own the machines himself, to do sufficient custom work for others to provide for economical utilization of his machinery.

Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you! Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B₁ and P. They alkalize; aid digestion. Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days. THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Daniel 1:5. DEVOTIONAL READING: Acts 5:27-32.

Men Who Dared To Stand For God

Lesson for June 6, 1948

A FIERY furnace, and a lion's den. These are the tests to which Sunday's lesson will put our hero about whom we studied last Sunday, this young man Daniel. Three friends, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego, will undergo the test of the fiery furnace, having been convinced by Daniel's example that God is trustworthy. And Daniel will spend the night in the den of lions. You will need to read chapters three through six to get the full story.

DANIEL IN THE DEN OF LIONS

THE sixth chapter must be read to have an adequate background for this study. Daniel had been chosen as the first of three presidents to rule over 120 princes who should govern the kingdom. The other two presidents and the princes could find no fault in this Hebrew, save that he believed and observed the law of his God. So, they conspired against him by persuading the king to issue a decree that no person in the kingdom was to make a petition to any God or man for 30 days, save to the king, on the penalty of being cast into the den of lions. This decree was issued by Darius, and Daniel's enemies reported to Darius that Daniel was opening his window three times a day, praying to his God. Darius was greatly troubled, but had to stand by his decree, and Daniel was cast into the den of lions. Darius spent a sleepless night, and hurried to the den at dawn to know about Daniel. Daniel replied, "O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me."

DARIUS REWARDS DANIEL

CONVINCED that Daniel's convictions had been miraculously rewarded by God, Darius ordered the other two presidents and the princes, together with their wives and children, thrown into the lions' dens. They were all destroyed by the lions.

Then Darius issued a decree to all the nations and people of all languages that dwell in all the earth. Hear this decree: "Peace be multiplied unto you. I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast forever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end." So Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and of Cyrus, the Persian.

COURAGE TO PUT GOD FIRST

LOOK now at the other test of faith—that of the three Hebrew children, Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had made a golden image, 90 feet high and nine feet wide, and set it up in the plain of Dura. On a certain day, when he was going to establish his state religion, he ordered every subject to fall down and worship this image.

But Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego refused to worship the image. Nebuchadnezzar was furious when he heard of their refusal. He summoned them into his presence, and warned them of their fate if they further refused to worship his gods. They answered him frankly that they would not bow down to the image. He ordered them thrown into the fiery furnace.

They decided that death was more honorable than apostasy. The men who cast them into the furnace fell dead!

UNSEARED AND UNSINGED!

BUT THE three Hebrew children walked in the flames, unseared and unsinged! The king was astounded. The people were amazed. They had witnessed what the God of all the earth can and will do.

Then went forth the decree, "There is no other God that can deliver after this sort." Thus we have the golden text for Sunday's lesson:

"Be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

And what happened in the long ago when man dared to stand up and trust in God will happen today and every day.

HOUSEHOLD MEMOS... by Lynn Chambers

Let Children Have Many Happy Returns!

FEW EVENTS WILL MATCH the pleasure that a real birthday party can give to your youngster. The gaiety imparted by a few favors, crepe paper decorations, a house full of little friends and a cake all his own, these are the things a child will remember so pleasantly for a long time.

Birthday party menus depend mainly upon the age of the children. Very simple food is the order of the day for children of three or four; and for children of five or six, the food is only slightly more elaborate.

Children from 8 to 10 and older may have things such as lamb chops or hamburgers for the main dish, but it's still important to plan to serve only familiar foods for little guests.

Ice cream and cake are essentials at a birthday party no matter what the age group. For the younger children, however, serve only plain ice cream such as vanilla, and a very simple, not too rich cake, so there will be no digestive upsets.

THE MENUS AND RECIPES I've planned will give you a clue as to the best way to plan these particular party foods.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Youngsters 3 to 4)

Cream of Tomato Soup
or Goldenrod Eggs
Carrot Sticks or Curls
Peanut Butter-Jelly Sandwiches
Vanilla Ice Cream Sponge Cake with Milk
Orange Icing

Goldenrod Eggs are a nutritious dish whether the party is for lunch or dinner time. Eggs prepared this way are just a bit more purified than creamed eggs.

2 tablespoons butter or substitute
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 hard-cooked eggs
Parsley
6 toast wedges

Melt the butter, blend in flour, then add milk slowly and stir in seasonings. Cook until thickened. Cut whites of eggs into tiny slivers and add to the white sauce. Pour creamed mixture over toast wedges and top with hard-cooked yolks pressed through a sieve. Garnish with parsley.

The sandwiches may be omitted when the eggs are served, but if desired, they may be made into "fingers" and also served. If the soup is served, they may be placed on the plate along with it.

A cake that will do the job nicely for the younger generation is this one made with hot milk, eggs and only a little shortening. It may be frosted prettily with orange juice and flavored with grated orange rind. Flute it through a pastry rosette tube and don't forget to write happy birthday across it and use candles.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake

4 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup boiling milk or water
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon lemon extract
4 stiffly beaten egg whites

Beat egg yolks until very thick; add sugar gradually and continue beating. Add milk; mix well and add sifted dry ingredients. Mix until smooth and add extract. Fold in egg whites. Bake in an ungreased cake pan in a slow (325 degree) oven for one hour. Invert pan to cool, then frost.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Children 5 to 6)

Creamed Chicken in Toast Cups

Green Peas Carrot Slices

Ice Cream and Birthday Cake

Beverage

You may use the recipe for creamed eggs, and use chicken. The green peas may be mixed with the chicken or served separately. The carrot slices may be raw or cooked and served with the peas. Use the same cake as suggested for the first menu.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Children over 7)

Lamb Chops on Toast or Hamburgers on Broiled Tomato Slices

Potatoes Au Gratin Green Beans

Ice Cream with Sauce or Crushed Fresh Berries

Birthday Cake

Milk

If you serve lamb chops, it's a good idea to have them broiled when you give them to the younger children. They're more healthful, too, if they're broiled.

Here's a tasty recipe for hamburgers, if you decide on them for the party:

Broiled Hamburgers

(Serves 6)

1 pound ground round or chuck

2 tablespoons chili sauce

1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard

1 teaspoon minced onion

1/4 cup fine bread crumbs

1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1/4 teaspoon pepper

8 slices bread

8 slices fresh tomato

Combine all ingredients except sliced bread and tomatoes. Spread on slices of bread. Broil for eight minutes at moderate heat, then top with tomatoes which have been broiled at the same time. Serve at once.

FOR YOUR BIRTHDAY CAKE,

select a yellow, white or chocolate one depending upon the youngsters' preference. Then frost it with chocolate frosting, as given below. The cake may be put together with marshmallow cream, spread with the frosting. A procession of animal crackers around the sides will delight the children. If animal candle holders are available, use them on top.

Magic Chocolate Frosting

2 squares unsweetened chocolate

1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk

1 tablespoon water

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened, condensed milk, then stir over boiling water five minutes until the mixture thickens. Add water. Cool. Spread on cold cake. This recipe makes enough frosting for the top and sides of two (nine-inch) layers.

Released by WNU Features

What can you do with those sliced tomatoes? Use them in meat loaf or meat patties or as a sauce base for flavoring other meats. Or stew and sieve them and use for soup.

Is there a dab of applesauce in the refrigerator? Cook it into the youngsters' morning meal.

Never toss away those delicious fruit juices from canned fruit. Thicken with cornstarch and use as pudding sauce or as liquid for gelatin desserts and salads.

Future Prosperity of U. S. Depends on Sound Postwar Planning

Historically, America's economy had its beginnings in farms and in small towns. As more goods were produced and as farms multiplied, more towns came into being and some of them grew into large cities. The existence of the large cities does not, however, detract from the importance of rural communities. About one-fourth of our people are farmers and dependent upon the production from their land for nearly all their income. Roughly, another fourth, living in small towns and to some extent in the cities, depend on farm trade in one form or another for a livelihood. These two groups represent at least one-half our population. The importance of prosperity in rural America to the rest of the economy is indicated by the fact that approximately 70 cents of the farm dollar goes into the purchase of things which have to be manufactured. The farmer's prosperity, therefore, makes a maximum contribution toward the creation of pay-rolls and jobs.

Sound postwar planning should result not only in more jobs in your community but in permanent advances for the United States. In a democracy, progressive community action is essential to social and economic progress. — From "Postwar Jobs and Growth in Small Communities," Committee for Economic Development handbook.

POT-SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

By GEORGE DARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elvens and children from Levelland visited his mother and sister in McCaulley last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Elvens and children from Fort Worth visited relatives in McCaulley and Sylvester last week-end. They were on their way to Denver, Colorado and other vacation points of interest.

Mrs. W. C. Lee underwent major surgery in a Rotan hospital last week.

W. E. Mabery and Charley Maberry from Lamesa and Lubbock were week-end visitors with their mother in McCaulley.

Ted Darden from Carlsbad, New Mexico visited his nephew and family the George Dardens last Saturday.

Rev. Carlton Thompson, local Methodist pastor, will leave this week for Pampa where he and his family will reside. Sorry to lose these fine folks from our community.

Lt. and Mrs. W. H. Pickron from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, Louisiana will arrive this week for a visit with parents in Hamlin and McCaulley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones and sons from Slaton were week-end visitors with relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Maberry and children are visiting for a few days with his mother and other relatives. Their home is now at Muleshoe.

Bynum Wayne and Patsy Miers of Muleshoe are visiting for a week with relatives in Hamlin and McCaulley.

Yep, folks we have had the rain, approximately seven inches within the last two weeks. Still too wet to plow in places. The frogs are making music that West Texas folks love to hear.

The ladies of the local Methodist Church sponsored a party in honor of Mrs. Carlton Thompson who will leave Monday of this week for Canyon with her husband and baby to make their home. A love offering of silver was presented Mrs. Thompson. Ladies from the Neida Methodist Church were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ray Griffin are the proud parents of a daughter who discovered America Saturday a week ago.

The McCaulley "Red Caps" teenage softball team of boys of McCaulley were defeated by a teen-age Wise Chapel team last Friday night by the score of 19 to 12. A good game with the exception of some costly errors. The same two teams will meet on the local court next Friday night.

McCaulley's High School softball boys team defeated the McCaulley outsiders Friday night by a score of 14 to 6. Both teams were 'dolled-up' in new suits.

Seniors and Juniors from McCaulley High returned Wednesday of last week from Carlsbad Caverns an all reported a lovely time.

Local Fisher County candidates are beating the bushes for votes the past week and we look for things to warm up before the primary in July.

See where Martin Dies has thrown his hat in the ring for 'Pappy's' seat in the Senate. It's rather difficult for a "has-been" to come back judging from past political history.

If you have loved ones in McCaulley's silent city and you are financially able to kick in a little on the upkeep of the cemetery then your contribution will be appreciated and same acknowledged in this column. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Earl Madden visited her mother, Mrs. Vera Jayroe, in McCaulley last Sunday.

Frank Jackson, local lumber yard manager, is walking with a cane due to a back ailment. Old age over takes people and there is nothing we can do about it. Even the scribe is beginning to feel like past history especially after 14 hours on a tractor. Catch ourselves humming that old tune—"Hand Me Down My Walking Cane."

Gotta' go to lodge, several ball games, plow, all week milk three cows and invited to a couple of weddings for this week and folks if we get a little mixed up and leave out something that's been on the "grapevine" please excuse.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fancher of Sweetwater visited Sunday with his parents, Mr and Mrs. J. W. Fancher.

Mrs. John Crowley is back in a Rotan hospital after suffering a relapse last week.

Uncle Sam Says

Seeding time on the farm calls for the use of strong, pure seed able to meet weather and pest attacks and still come through with a good harvest. United States Savings Bonds are like good reliable seed. They grow a crop which can be left to fatten, rich in maturity in ten years at the rate of $4 for every $3 invested. Take a tip from the wise farmer who is storing up a crop of security by investing now in Savings Bonds. He is growing more money, security for himself and his family and security for his country. Your security is America's security.

U. S. Treasury Department

Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Locke, Nancy and Patty of Lubbock were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace and family last week. Nancy stayed until Monday and left with her mother to attend the graduation exercises of her brother, Durwood.

Mrs. Tom Price and daughter, Jewel, visited friends in McCaulley last Monday.

Relatives visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maberry Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Webster, Mrs. J. K. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Whipp, of Lubbock, Mrs. Doris Bedford, Mrs. J. L. Sherill and son of Stamford, Mrs. Nute Stephens and son of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Maberry and Betty of Plainview, John R. Haraghty of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Maberry and Kenneth Jack. Danny Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Maberry and one aunt one great aunt and two great great aunts and the dinner for the above kinsmen.

As we write these lines Monday afternoon it is again raining so perhaps West Texas isn't such a dry State after all. See you next week if we don't drown.—Yours, George.

Is your refrigerator in top working order?

Well, here is the good 'ole summer time—with the hot, hot days just around the corner—days when your electric refrigerator will really get a work out!

By the way, your electric refrigerator will give you top service only if it is in top working order. We suggest that you have it checked over soon by a serviceman who specializes in the type refrigerator you are using. You'll find the names of such men in your telephone directory.

And here's an encouraging thought for your budget! For just one penny, Reddy Kilowatt will protect the food in your refrigerator for five hours! That's less than a nickel a day—from midnight tonight to midnight tomorrow!

Jones County Oil Registers Two New Productions Over Week as Others Completed

Jones County oil was registering completions in new discoveries about 20 miles southeast of Hamlin and others in the Bartlett Pool were reported.

The new productions were in the Strawn and Lower Gunsite. The first located about 16 miles southwest of Hamlin showed 10 barrels per hour through 24-64 choke on test for five hours. It is the C. U. Bay & B. H. Hilburn No. 1 Matthews, Strawn discovery located 990 feet from the north and 600 feet from the east line of subdivision 39, league 149 DeWitt County School Land survey.

While the Lower Gunsite production is located about 15 miles southeast of Hamlin Danciger Oil & Refining Company No. 1 R. L. Stephenson reported water trouble and was decided to maybe complete in the Upper Gunsite or in the Flippins if the formation shows water still coming from it after casing. It is located from the south line of R. L. Stephenson 517 acre tract in the M. Fragos survey.

While only four miles southeast of Hamlin, top of the King-Swastika section was expected early this week on the Roark, Hooker & Roark No. 1 E. E. Farnsworth, a wildcat located 2,310 feet from the north and 990 feet from the east line of block 360 Goliad County School Land survey. It is on permit for 3,000.

While two new producers in the Jones County Bartlett Pool were completed about 28 miles southeast of Hamlin.

On the corner of this pool the Ungren & Frazier et al No. 2 Mattie V. Alexander has been gauged at 8642 barrels of 41 gravity oil per day on pump from the King at 3,218 3,225 feet. It is located 330 feet from the north and 990 feet from the west line of section 34 block 2 SP survey.

While northwest corner of the pool the Ungren & Frazier et al No. 3 H. L. Bartlett, Swastika completion showed 25 barrels per hour thru 1-4 inch choke. It is located 1,051 feet from the north and 330 feet from the east line of section 43 of block 2 SP survey.

County Wheat Farmer Reminded by AAA To Make Claims Soon

Nelson Little, district crop insurance supervisor this week reminded Hamlin and other Jones County wheat farmers who had their crops insured under government program, to file their report immediately after making harvest in order to finish their adjustments.

Little stated that they should report to the AAA office within 10 days after harvesting is finished in order for the adjusters to inspect and measure the stubble and transmit their wheat insurance claims if they have a loss.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Neill Jr. of Hamlin are the proud parents of a daughter, Donna Mae, born Sunday in an Abilene hospital. She weighed six pounds and seven and three-fourths ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ray Griffin of McCaulley are the proud parents of a daughter born Saturday a week ago.

Fisher County Has New Wildcat and Two Other Tests

Fisher County oil this week showed a new Ellenburger wildcat and two other tests, the latter ones nearing completion in the Ellenburger and King respectively.

Wildcat was located about 17 miles southeast of Hamlin and is the Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 1 Mrs. Emma E. Boyd, 467 feet from the south and east lines of the west 196.17 acres of section 3 block K T&P survey. It is on permit for 6,500 feet with rotary.

Santa Fe Railway Streamlines Payments In Cattle Losses

A record of prompt claim payments was established in Texas today by the Santa Fe Railway with $155,000 awarded cattlemen less than three weeks after an impartial Board was organized to evaluate cattle losses resulting from the recent accidental poisoning of Little Linville Creek. Soon after Railway President Fred G. Gurley assumed responsibility and suggested a Board of local cattlemen to hasten adequate relief, action was inspired. A Board was enlisted by County Judge Thurmon M. Gupion of Brazoria April 28th; it considered first claims May 4th and today settled all but two or three yet to be presented. Shown here is P. J. Reeves Jr., with a check for $5,073 delivered by E. H. Wilson, general claim agent, extreme left; standing, left to right, J. C. Jones, T. P. Matthews and L. J. McNeill, Board members, and, seated, Reeves.

Hamlin Reresented at F-M Meet at Anson

Hamlin was represented last Thursday night at Anson at another meeting of Jones County leaders on discussing Farm-to-Market roads in the County.

The meeting was held in form of a banquet at the Anson Memorial

A total of 18 carloads of wheat from the 1948 crop in Hamlin area had been shipped from Hamlin up to Wednesday night according to a report from the agent at Santa Fe Railways here.

Harvest of this year's crop, was started about three weeks ago, and had progressed at a daily increasing rate with additional combines starting in fields in all sections of the County as favorable weather prevailed.

Cut short by lack of rainfall and hot dry weather in the early spring months, the yield is expected to be very light for the 1948 crop.

This year's market opened at the rate of $2.15 per bushel while last year was around $2.85.

Reports from the north indicated the 1948 crop to be harvesting out at from four to eight or better per acre.

While west to Rotan yield is very poor at from two to six or better. East and south is not much better it is reported.

Last year yields averaged at better than 42 bushels per acre in some near areas and a total of about 250 cars were shipped from Hamlin.

Fifth Annual Picnic Bell County People At Buffalo Gap

Fifth annual picnic of the Ex-Bell County residents who now reside in West Texas will be held at the Presbyterian Camp ground at Buffalo Gap Sunday, June 20 according to a report to The Herald this week from Florence Clifton, secretary.

The Association was organized in 1940 and has for its purpose the coming together once a year of all that were former residents of Bell County. There are no dues and the only requirements are that the person formerly lived in Bell County and now lives in West Texas.

Basket lunches are to be brought to the gathering and will convene at 10:00 o'clock a. m. A crowd of over 2,000 is expected to meet at the meeting.

Hamlin's representatives were Fred C. Smith and J. S. Inzer.

Rev. Posey, Baptist Pastor, to Bring First Sermon Sunday

Rev. A. R. Posey, new pastor of Hamlin's First Baptist Church, will preach his first sermon this Sunday. He replaces Rev. John H. Osteen who is now doing evangelistic work.

Rev. Posey was born and reared in Hereford and graduated from Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth.

He has been the pastor of the Chillicothe Baptist Church for the past three and one-half years. Rev. and Mrs. Posey have two children, Ellis a sophomore at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene and Barbara who will enter High School here this fall.

The Poseys arrived at their home here Thursday.

Fisher County Boys Receive Sear's Pigs

Several Fisher County boys received gifts from the Sears Foundation in the yearly program. They were presented by W. S. Pratz, manager of the Sear's store at Sweetwater.

Awardees included the following boys: Johnnie Keidd, Donald W. Kidd and Mickey Potts all of McCaulley and Duwayne Watson of Sylvester.

Abilene Whips Local Baseballers 6-5 Wed.

Hamlin's Baseball team was defeated Wednesday in a thriller at the City Park when the Abilene Merchants whipped the locals 6-5. Abilene had six hits, Hamlin had four.

McCoy, pitcher for Hamlin struck out 17 as to 13 for Abilene. A return game will be played here Sunday at 3:00 o'clock p. m.

OUR MISTAKE!

Story of the Nazarene Church last week was non-intentionally dated on our part for this week but should have stated it was over. We are sorry for the mistake and hope this will serve as an explanation.

Hamlin V.F.W. Post to Hold Cancer Drive This Evening

Hamlin's Veterans of Foreign Wars are sponsoring a drive for conquering Cancer today (Friday) at 2:30 o'clock p. m. according to reports.

Quota for Jones County this year is only $1,500. Hamlin's quota is only $300.

Cancer as everyone knows is a much dreaded disease and someone dies of it every three minutes—yes, one every three minutes.

The drive is for the American Cancer Society and the funds are distributed thusly: 2 per cent to research; 60 per cent to the State; and 15 percent to the national program.

Cancer is frequently curable if it is caught in time. Below are the recognition signals of the disease:

- 1.—Any sore that does not heal, particularly about the tongue, lips or mouth.
- 2.—A painless lump or thickening especially in the breast, lip or tongue.
- 3.—Progressive change in the color or size of a wart, mole or birthmark.
- 4.—Persistent indigestion.
- 5.—Persistent hoarseness, unexplained cough or difficulty in swallowing.
- 6.—Bloody discharge from the nipple or irregular bleeding from any of the natural body openings.
- 7.—Any change in the normal bowel habits.

These are a few of the many things the Society has learned, but they still need your help, give!

Rev. Fipps, Former Baptist Pastor, Vitis

Rev. and Mrs. Quincy Fipps and children, formerly of Hamlin, now of California, visited last week with Mr. and Mrs. Odessa Gable and Mr. and Mrs. Barnie Smith. She is a sister of both Mrs. Gable and Mrs. Smith. Rev. Fipps is a former Baptist preacher here and was passing thru from the Southern Baptist Convention held at Memphis, Tennessee.

Mrs. J. B. Hackett Family Reunion Held City Park Last Week

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Impulse to Zion

Arnold Toynbee, British historian, types the Jews as a fossilized remnant of an extinct civilization.

He meant that because of their single-minded, faultless devotion to the religion of Moses and their strict adherence to ancestral customs, the Jews, descending through history as a compact group, have retained most of the original characteristics which marked them when first they emerged as part of the Syrian civilization thousands of years before Christ.

They are recognized today as being in but not of the societies in which they appear on every portion of the globe. They almost invariably form a minority group, and as such they have been targets for endless persecution.

Socially, world Jewry has been of two minds concerning the most desirable end it could achieve for itself. Those two conflicting trains of thought are represented by the "zionists" and the "dispersionists."

The dispersionists have advocated that Jews should mingle freely with whatever people they have chosen to live among and gradually be assimilated by that people. Zionists, of course, favor establishment of a national homeland — an indestructible ideal ever since Moses led the exodus to Canaan.

Since the war, with Nazi attempts to obliterate German Jews completely and subsequent displacement of millions of European Jews, Zionism has been given a tremendous impetus.

That impulse to Zion has been distilled into what the world has come to know as the "Palestine problem." More recently it crystallized even further in the actual establishment of a Jewish state — called Israel — in Palestine, ancient homeland of the pre-Christian era Jews.

ISRAEL: In Palestine

Events moved with the swiftness of time itself in the Holy Land.

Ritualizing the expiration of Great Britain's 30-year mandate rule over Palestine, Sir Alan Cunningham, British high commissioner, hauled down his personal flag in Jerusalem and flew to Haifa where he boarded a cruiser.

That was that. Britannia no longer ruled the Palestinians.

Then the Jews, who had been denied a legally partitioned state, proclaimed the existence of a new, independent republic in Palestine which was to be called Israel.

Before Israel was 20 minutes old it had received formal diplomatic recognition from the United States, first nation to extend such recognition.

And while Israel was yet only hours old it was already at war. The newborn state was invaded from the north by regular army forces of Lebanon and Syria and from the south by Egyptian troops. It was shelled from the east by Trans-Jordan's Arab Legion and bombed and machine-gunned from the air by Arab planes.

Haganah, the principal Jewish fighting force, rushed troops, seasoned by months of guerrilla warfare, to all fronts and the fighting settled down to the pattern with which every adult in the world has become familiar.

During the initial furor, Israel's provisional council of state managed to find time to elect Dr. Chaim Weizmann, a scientist and elder statesman of Zionism, first president of the nation.

Most momentous news connected with establishment of Israel was the agonizingly prompt U. S. diplomatic recognition of the state.

CRISIS: Supersonic

There is a "crisis" developing in military aviation, says Cmdr. Lynn S. Beals Jr., navy doctor, because it is not yet known how to keep human beings healthy when they fly faster than sound.

Main trouble is from vertical vibration — the up-and-down motion that comes as a plane reaches the speed of sound. This vibration is so fast that it equals five to six times the pull of gravitation.

WINDFALL: Propaganda

In Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith's formal and completely routine statement to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, the Russians thought they had a propaganda bonanza.

It was cleverly done. Smith's otherwise tough statement, which simply repeated the basic U. S. foreign policy with regard to Russia, contained one sentence that Moscow took as a loophole: "As far as the United States is concerned, the door is always wide open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

Molotov seized upon that sentence and the announcement was broadcast to the world that Russia accepted the American "offer" to negotiate.

It looked like a propaganda victory of major proportions for the Soviets. Briefly, it put them in the position of being able to point with pride to their manifest willingness to settle the bitter differences which have kept the world unnerved for so long.

If the U. S. refused to talk, that would be fine with the Russians who would capitalize on that fact with a vengeance. If a peace conference did develop as a result of the original trick, the old and familiar Soviet obstructionist tactics would be brought into play to do the usual job of sabotage.

That was about the way it stacked up to the high officials in Washington. Both President Truman and Secretary of State George Marshall made it clear that there would be no conference, that there was no logical basis for one and that such a conference could not possibly succeed at this time because neither the U. S. nor Russia had altered or modified its position in any way.

In addition to the propaganda value of the Russian move, it might also have been calculated to throw some sand into the gears of the incipient U. S. defense program.

If the Soviets, suddenly assuming a peaceful mien, were able to hypnotize the American people into feeling falsely secure, congress in an election year might be coerced into wasting a lot of time in preparing such items of the defense program as the 70-group air force bill and the draft bill. That wasted time could, in the light of possible future events, turn out to be incalculably precious.

Sequel

Second episode of the affair of the Russian peace overture was a Stalin-to-Wallace pass that went over the head of the U. S. government.

The Russian premier took advantage of an "open letter" which Henry Wallace had addressed to him demanding an open showdown between the two nations. Wallace's proposals, as summarized by Stalin, included:

1. General reduction of armaments and prohibition of atomic weapons.
2. Conclusion of peace treaties with Germany and Japan.
3. Evacuation of troops from China and Korea.
4. Respect for the sovereignty of individual countries and non-interference in their domestic affairs.
5. World development of international trade.

"I don't know whether the United States government approves Mr. Wallace's program . . ." Stalin said, making it starkly clear that he was talking, not to the government, but to the American people. He applauded the Wallace letter as "the most important document of recent times," and declared, "As far as the government of the USSR is concerned, it considers that Mr. Wallace's program could serve as a good and fruitful basis for an agreement."

Apparently a Russian attempt to bring about a showdown in the East-West struggle before an audience of world public opinion, Stalin's bombshell statement renewed the question of whether the new Soviet tactics are merely propaganda or a genuine effort for peace.

Either way the U. S. was in a difficult position. If the Russian appeal is taken at face value it cuts the ground from under the tough American cold war strategy. If it is propaganda it undoubtedly will serve to put the U. S. in a bad light.

Well, Not Exactly

A. C. Hudson of Portsmouth, N. H., head of a committee of fire protection experts who examined the White House recently, said he wouldn't exactly call the President's home a firetrap, but still and all there are plenty of hazards existing at the Pennsylvania avenue edifice.

There is nothing wrong with the White House that a lot of fire-proofing won't fix, he said, but it needs a lot of money.

FARM PLAN: Truman's

To shore up his sinking political prestige in his campaign for re-nomination, President Truman proposed to congress a four-point farm program which he claimed is "essential" to a productive, prosperous agriculture in the U. S.

Burden of his message were these recommendations:

1. A permanent system of "flexible price supports for agricultural commodities."
2. "Full support to the continuance and expansion of our program of soil conservation."
3. Legislation by congress to "continue and strengthen programs to assure adequate consumption of agricultural products."
4. "We need to consider other means for assisting farmers to meet their special problems. For example, we must support and protect farm cooperatives. We must continue to work toward a sound system of crop insurance."

There was nothing very startling about the proposals, and they carried the unmistakable ring of a campaign year bid for the farmers' favorable attention.

ITALY: Vox Pop

Luigi Einaudi, 74, a banker, is to be president of the Italian republic for the next seven years.

He was elected at a joint session of both houses of parliament on the fourth ballot after the Communists, who had been supporting Enrico de Nicola, threw their votes to him. On three previous ballots none of the presidential prospects had been able to command the required majority because of the Communist bloc.

An opponent of communism, Einaudi also was a foe of Mussolini's brand of fascism. He is an internationally known writer on public finance and economic history.

Einaudi's first task as president of the republic was to designate a premier and instruct him to form a cabinet. There was no doubt that he would name Alcide de Gasperi, premier of the provisional government, to continue in that capacity on a permanent basis.

DISPLACED: Bill Pending

Although the desperate problem of Europe's displaced persons has not been attracting much headline attention lately, congress has been busy working out legislation to admit quotas of DPs into the U. S. Latest report was that an informal poll showed that a majority of the senate would vote for a bill to admit 200,000 displaced persons into this country during the next two years.

The actual bill being considered by the senate judiciary committee sets the figure at 100,000 DP immigrants for the next two years, but several senators have introduced amendments to raise that total to 200,000 and to remove some restrictions imposed by the committee.

One senate source said the poll indicated that at least 55 senators were ready to vote for the less restrictive version. The house judiciary committee already has approved a similar measure to admit 200,000 DPs in the next two years.

ATOM RACE: Official

Governments of the world never have been farther from outlawing the use of atomic weapons. In fact, the atomic armament race is just settling down to a long, straight-away dash.

It is a contest involving astronomical costs, with horrible disaster if not ultimate destruction possibly lurking just beyond the horizon.

So far the U. S. is well in the lead, as indicated by the recent announcement of the development and successful testing of three new atomic weapons which are said to supersede the original atom bombs in destructive power.

The United Nations atomic energy commission made the race official when, after two years of fruitless effort to work out some kind of international atomic control, it finally voted to suspend negotiations.

Other developments followed swiftly to prove that the U. S. is deadly serious about developing a powerful and diversified atomic arsenal.

David E. Lillenthal, chairman of the atomic energy commission, reported that the "present stage of the commission's tests of atomic weapons is concluded."

President Truman then authorized the commission to take "steps . . . at once for further development based on information gained from the tests."

What Russia was doing about atomic weapons remained pretty much of a mystery, at least as far as the American public was concerned. It was an accepted fact that the Russians knew how to make an atom bomb. Whether they had the industrial facilities to do so still remained a matter of considerable conjecture.

President Talks—Everyone Wants to Get in on the Act

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator

WASHINGTON.—The colonel was talking to the general. It was obvious that the general was as bored as his secretary looked, her interrupted dictation on her crossed knee, which she uncrossed as the general's eye wandered.

The colonel was the army's No. 1 specialist on the super-gadget which was about to revolutionize warfare, as the colonel could (and would, if he got a chance) tell you. The colonel knew the history of the gadget's development from its crude semi-gismo stage when, primitive as it was, it caused the entire re-organization of the tactics of the knights under Otto the great, first King of the Germans. He could trace its evolution down through the days of delicate interplay when it broke up the Empire of Charlemagne, and on down to the fall of Stalingrad.

The colonel had brought the general about up to the third Punic war and the secretary was wiggling. The general himself had begun to fumble with form 2A-3064-B29. The colonel realized that he was rapidly losing his audience. So he raised his voice so that file clerks in the next office stopped filing (their fingernails) and looked up.

"By the way, General," he remarked confidentially, "Did you know that I'm writing the President's next speech? The one he delivers to the Inter-Planetary association?"

The general's secretary perked up. . . the general raised an eyebrow. . . the colonel smiled. . . At about the same hour, over in the Metropolitan club, a very dapper young man from the division of the Far, Near and Middle East and expert in economic-ethic-pathology, was sipping a thin scotch-and-soda which his chief had just ordered. His chief was bored.

"By the way, Chief," he said in a whisper so loud that even the waiters stopped looking respectful and listened: "I'm writing the President's next speech to the Inter-Planetary association's conference."

In four other places, four other young experts were telling their bosses the same thing. All were perfectly honest, all were believed, and in 20 minutes or so, stenographers, clerks, messengers, waiters and cab drivers were pointing out "the guy who writes the President's speeches."

All this has been going on, I suppose, in world capitals since before somebody else thought he had codified the code of Hammurabi.

What really happens is this: The President calls in one of his more literary secretaries—all of them are literate, but not all literary (some—those whose duties are conversing with politicians, don't have to be too literate). The President says to the literary one: "Bill, in this speech I have to write for the Inter-Planetary conference, I'm going to mention the super-gadget, and I want to touch on the current economic and social situation in Beluria, also there are some erosion statistics I need, and some data on the problems which arose as a result of the Whiskey Rebellion."

"Okech, Chief," says the literary secretary, and on his way back to his office, he begins classifying, according to departments, the people he thinks may have the facts or the people who will know who knows somebody who has the facts. He either phones or dictates a brief memo to these people, requesting not more than one page from each on the subjects indicated.

Highly-pleased young and old men, on receipt of the memo or phone call, begin leafing through their research libraries and dictating to their secretaries. In two days, a number of large packages are delivered to the White House via special messengers. The literary secretary curses and sets to work boiling down a 24-page thesis on the progression of tau-mute from the Sanskrit elia to a sentence and a half which he has his stenographer type into the rough draft of the speech which the President has dictated and sent to him for the purpose.

Franklin Roosevelt became angered because columnists persisted in "revealing" which confidential adviser wrote the last speech he delivered, whatever it was, that he once showed us the actual draft of a speech he had dictated and written, and re-written as was his custom. In fact, the last-minute revising of Roosevelt's interlined manuscripts often went on while newshounds growled in the outer office and mimeographers stood by to handle the finally-okayed sheets in "takes."

President Truman got a little peeved recently over the same line of columnar chatter and began to "let it be known" that he could write himself. Of course, all presidents get advice, counsel, assistance and inspiration from many men of many minds. Of course, there are humanitarians and grammarians, stylists and Carlyle-ists, lexicographers and geographers, economists and agronomists, Russians, Prussians and Persians upon whom he can call if the need arises.

And somehow or other, each and all, if they but contribute one jot or tittle to the sacred paper, think they wrote the whole—or at least the stenographer who had to take down all the stuff hopefully offered for possible presidential use thinks so, and tells her friends about it—confidentially.

The problem of presidential speeches is much to the fore these days for this reason: President Truman and his advisers, despite the rebel yells, the wails of the defeatists, the triumphant roar of the elephant and the ominous hoof-beats of the polls as they Gallup downhill, still believe he has a fighting chance to return in November to the White House, and he intends to fight for it.

The President is going on a speaking tour of the West — of course, it isn't a campaign, that would be undignified and immodest before the convention has asked. He will speak under no "political sponsorship." But he will speak and he is going to ad lib, as we say in the trade. Even if we hadn't had our ears conditioned for 12 long years by the golden voice that breathed over the firesides, the un- oratorical oratory of Harry Truman when he reads a speech, be it ever so humble, never would be mistaken for the vox humana or the angels' chorus.

But when Harry Truman gets up and talks, he's very human, very sensible, and not altogether un-persuasive. So from now on, he's going to speak extemporaneously, no matter how much preparation it takes.

He showed what he could do with out notes or manuscript (and without learning by rote) when he addressed the newspaper publishers and the Gridiron club in April, and again in May when he talked off-the-cuff to the national conference on family life in Washington.

And since such speeches aren't written, nobody can say he wrote them for him.

"Will to Peace" Finds Expression

Next month a "national conference for the prevention of World War III" will be held on the campus of Grinnell college in Iowa.

The purpose is to present a "definite, concrete working plan to prevent a third world war; methods which can be presented to the two national political conventions at Philadelphia."

The roster of speakers will include representatives of many of the organizations now working for a single sovereign, world organization.

Meanwhile Winston Churchill is hammering steadily at his purpose of building a United States of Europe. Although the Attlee government has not approved the idea, the prime minister himself has spoken words of encouragement regarding the formation of a real federalization of the western union.

Attlee even went so far as to say that Britain was willing to sacrifice her sovereignty in part to bring it about, although he qualified the promise by saying the time was not yet ripe for such a step.

But Churchill wants to strike now. He received considerable support from the unofficial gathering in the Hague—a forum, they called it—composed of representatives of the Marshall plan countries, plus exiled leaders.

Churchill's proposals and the Grinnell conference are both part of the tremendous "will to peace" that currently is finding expression.

Perhaps eventually we will learn that great lesson of history—to yield the sovereignty that causes wars to the kind of sovereignty that allows not only the other freedoms to the individual but which, also will give him freedom from the FEAR of war. Just as the federalization of the separate colonies made the citizen of the state of New York free from the fear of war with the state of Pennsylvania—a situation possible because both recognize a higher sovereignty—the United States government.

AS FAR as anyone can see now, the month of June will be a big one for boxing with Louis defending his title against Walcott.

Louis says this will be his last fight. What will happen if Louis wins, and then retires? The heavyweight division will be the way Gene Tunney left it years ago. Then the aftermath included Schmeling, Sharkey, Carnera, Baer and Braddock.

This was not what you'd call the greatest collection of fighting flesh ever thrown together. On a general average it was pretty sorry stuff. There wasn't a top fighter in the lot. Yes, Schmeling knocked out Louis, but Baer knocked out Schmeling. And so did Louis in the return match.

Tunney left a sorry bunch of fighters in his wake—until Louis came along. Louis made up for the mediocrity of the others that preceded him. It was Dempsey, Tunney, chaos and Louis.

What will it be after Louis? Suppose Louis wins. That will leave chaos again. If Walcott wins, Jersey Joe will be the new champion.

No one can rate Jersey Joe a great champion. He has been just another heavyweight too long; just another average fighter who happened to remain in shape when Louis didn't.

You can't sell a number of fighters, even champions, the idea that condition is as important as their own native skill. Yet condition happens to be more important than anything Louis has—his punch, his boxing skill, his gameness.

Louis as the heavyweight champion defending his title against Walcott was a joke, a travesty on training, on condition. He was a puffy fat man who couldn't move out of his tracks.

He returned from his exhibition tour in England weighing at least 240 pounds, and then worked desperately to lose 25 pounds in a few weeks.

Louis took on Walcott as a joke. If Louis can win in the condition he has to offer for late June, Walcott must be a joke. Louis will have to create a miracle to be even close to the form that made him, and kept him, champion so many years.

Medal Play Is Tops

Medal play and match play are two entirely different forms of golf. Especially on the psychological side, which is a big part of golf.

I still think medal play is the rougher test, where every stroke is important. This isn't true of match play where you can take a nine and only one hole.

There is no chance to give you concentration a vacation in medal play. There is in match play. In medal play you are fighting both the field and the course. In match play, your opponent is one man.

The Live Ball

It has remained for a young, rookie pitcher to call a check on your reporter and also enter what is perhaps a well-deserved rebuke. This rookie pitcher is smart—and what is more important—he also can pitch. Up to $100,000 was offered for his service in the box.

"You write," he said, "that Johnson, Walsh, Alexander, Matly and others pitched around 400 innings or more. That's right. You also write that no modern pitcher can work 300 innings. Most of the good ones are 250-inning pitchers. That's right too. But don't forget those old pitchers were throwing a half-dead ball—a spit ball—a fuzzed-up ball—a logy ball that Samson couldn't hit out of a handbox ball park."

"Now, check back with my Home-run Baker hit 12 home runs in one year and promptly was labelled 'Home-Run' Baker. Here is the king of all home-run hitters. He smashes 12 four-baggers in one season and he is the king. Why today, some of these bums I'm throwing at might pile up 12-home runs in two weeks."

"I'm telling you," he continued, "that today we are throwing explosive bombs to the plate. Every ball we throw is loaded with dynamite. We can take a broom and hit one for three bases."

"You remember those old Yankees headed by Ruth and Gehrig? They set a home-run record that never would be broken, and they were swinging at a rabbit ball. Last year the Giants came along and made those Ruth-Gehrig Yankees look like bunters. They were hammering at a rubber ball, even faster than the one Babe and Gehrig swung at."

"To show the difference, if Ruth were playing in the day of 'Home-Run' Baker, his top would have been 20 home runs for the entire season."

Which reminds me that I ran into Larry Lajoie a few years after he had quit and the lively ball had come into use. Larry played in an old-timer's game.

"I'm glad," he said, "we didn't have this modern ball when I played."

Build It From A Pattern

The pattern offered below takes all the mystery out of building the table to any size needed. While the pattern suggests making it six feet, it provides complete, easy to follow, directions for making it longer, if desired. All materials used in building this table are stock size and readily obtainable at lumber yards everywhere.

Building the table or other pieces of lawn furniture provides an economical solution to your household equipment problems. In many cases two articles can be made for less than one costs ready made. Besides saving money, woodworking provides hours of complete relaxation. Once you've experienced the deep down satisfaction of seeing lumber turn into a useful picnic table or lawn chair, you will undoubtedly become one of a huge army of "Build It Yourself" enthusiasts.

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Gardner Needs to Check Up Now for Replanting

The Hamlin area man with the rake or the shovel or a hand of seed packages is the man who is to save on the food bill this year and summer. And right now is the time for this man to make a check-up on his garden, says H. C. Wiley Jr., county agent.

Check up on the plantings already in the ground or that are now standing up: Sweet corn, peas, beans, cabbage, Swiss chard, carrots, spinach and mustard. Make a good planting of mustard. It's not too late to plant cabbage, carrots and English peas.

Plant both pole and bush beans, but do not forget to inoculate with nitrogen-fixing bacteria, a dust or powder that can be bought at seed and drug stores, advises Stanley Wiley, who gives the beans extra vigor and growth, and helps to increase yields. Wait until the weather warms up to plant lima beans. This bean is warm and "catches cold" easily.

Yellow crookneck, acorn and Ford Hook are three good squash varieties to plant, and give a harvest range from 30 to 60 days. Sow cucumber in rows one foot apart, and when the vines begin to run, thin one vine every two feet. Cucumbers are good for slicing into salads or pickling.

Leaf lettuce may be planted now or late spring and summer production, and this is a good time to start okra if the soil is warmed up pretty well. Okra takes lots of heat, and will not grow until the sun begins to bear down. Allow two to three feet of space between peppers and eggplants so they will have lots of room to grow.

In late planted beets to two to three inches apart, and use the ones that are taken out to fill in skips to get a uniform stand. Set out tomato plants now, and do not forget the cut worm menace that will eat many of these vegetables, says Stanley. After making this check-up, the spring gardener may take comfort in knowing he is off to a good start for this year's garden.

Freight Loadings Gain 3% from March-April

Revenue freight loaded in the southwestern district gained three per cent from March to April according to a report to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

April loadings of 295,269 carloads rose five per cent from a year earlier. Livestock loadings tripled the March level.

The Bureau's seasonally adjusted index of miscellaneous freight loadings moved up two per cent in April to 11 per cent above April of 1947.

Dairy Manufacturing Moves Upward for Fourth Straight Time

Hamlin area and other Texas dairy manufacturing moved upward for the fourth consecutive month, according to a report to The Herald early this week from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Milk consumed in the manufacture of dairy products rose 48 per cent in April to 58,399,000 pounds, or 34 per cent less than April 1947.

All types of dairy products shared in the March-to-April rise. American cheese more than doubled March production, for the greatest monthly gain. "Other" products jumped 62 per cent; creamery butter, 44 per cent; and ice cream, 22 per cent.

Compared to April 1947 manufacture of all dairy products fell; creamery butter, 43 per cent; "other", 42 per cent; American cheese, 25 per cent; and ice cream, 15 per cent.

The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index of dairy manufacture increased 10 per cent to 64 per cent of the prewar using as the base 1935-1939 period.

Livestock Shipments Show Gain of 16% From March - April

Livestock shipments from the Hamlin area and other Texas stations gained 19 per cent to 12,390 carloads in April according to a report early this week to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Cattle shipments, totaling 10,001 carloads, jumped 46 per cent, for the only March to April rise. The movements of hogs fell 50 per cent; calves, 47 per cent; and sheep, 23 per cent.

Compared to April 1947, livestock shipments were up five per cent. Hog shipments stepped up 32 per cent; sheep, 18 per cent; and cattle and calves, two per cent.

Interstate shipments plus Fort Worth advanced 25 per cent from March to eight per cent above April 1947.

AND SHOULD you encounter this man, exercise care. He's dangerous. Any further news that comes in will . . .

Jerry Anderson snapped off the radio. He'd heard the particulars of the brutal strangulation of Mrs. Prescott and the description of the suspect several times this evening. After that wordy, unlovely portrait of the man, he felt that even he would recognize him if he ever contacted him, but he hoped that he wouldn't. Jerry was no coward, but . . .

After Jerry's recent discharge from the hospital, he decided that he wanted to live out at the cottage while making his plans for the future. His family objected, not without cause, and it wasn't until old Doc Crowder, the family friend and physician, convinced them that it would be a good thing for Jerry to do under the circumstances, that they finally yielded to his wishes. Jerry had spent every summer of his life there, until his enlistment, and he loved the old place.

So, when his mother and Lucy reluctantly left him this afternoon, he was glad. Not that he did not appreciate the things which they had been doing for him, but he wanted to be on his own. He had plans to make and this change and the quiet that he would have would be perfect. He had tried, during his month at home, to apply his own "self-reasoning" method, but to little avail. He felt confident that it could be tested properly by facing his problems independently.

Jerry sat near the window for quite some time trying to make a start at some of that "self-reasoning," but his mind kept reverting to the broadcast he had heard earlier. If the woman only had had a gun, he thought. She probably would have been afraid to use it, though; most women were. He thought of the empty Luger in his bag and wished that he could have tried again to get some ammunition for it. He loved that gun, a gift from one of his buddies who had not come back.

Jerry went into the bedroom and took the gun from his bag. He fondled it and then slipped it into his pocket. He smiled when he realized just how foolish that was. He came back to his chair and he lit his pipe.

He had been sitting there for just a few minutes when, suddenly, he heard the back door being opened, and then the click of the light switch. He sat still, wondering who it could be, a dozen thoughts chasing through his mind. He felt the useless gun in his pocket and took it out, gripping it firmly. Now, if ever, he could test himself on several of the things which he had learned during his rehabilitation.

In less than a minute, it seemed, he heard the ice-box door being opened, and a low chuckle came from the intruder. Then he heard things being put on the table. He knew that whoever was in the kitchen seemed sure of himself. He must know, he thought, that even with the whole house lighted, it was practically impossible to see in from any side.

The minutes dragged while he listened to the man eating and drinking. From the noise he was making, slamming the ice-box door and moving his chair, the man undoubtedly thought that he was alone. Perhaps he had seen Lucy and her mother leave hours before and had waited for darkness to come.

After what had seemed an hour, he heard the man get up from the table and walk toward the hall which led into the living room. Jerry knew that his safety depended upon what he would be able to do within the next few minutes. It wasn't a very pleasant spot to be in, but . . .

He thought of the broadcaster's remark, that the killer had not used a car, and that it was suspected that he was making a getaway by the county back-roads and woods. This could be the man. For as long as he could remember, no ordinary tramp had ever strayed so far away from the main highway. He must have come upon the house by accident.

When Jerry heard a hand moving along the wall groping for a light-switch, he stood up and pointed the gun toward the door. Then it happened—the living room light was snapped on. He heard a hoarse cry of surprise.

The man's breathing was heavy as he stood motionless, facing the gun. He had a fear that Jerry could sense was genuine.

"Get 'em up! Who are you and what do you want?" Jerry was an officer in the infantry again as he made the demand.

The man was shaking when he spoke, "You're a cool one, brother. Put that gun down, please, before you hurt somebody." He took a step forward, and Jerry raised the gun and moved it slightly from side to side. Looking toward the man, Jerry was not sure of what he should do next. Then all the admonitions of his teachers came back to him: SHOW NO FEAR—THINK FAST—SPEAK WITH CONFIDENCE—REASON—FOLLOW THROUGH . . .

"Sit down in that chair," Jerry roared, surprised at his loud voice. This gave him a bit of confidence. Then he thought of his next move. "A nut," the man ventured, half under his breath, and he obeyed. He kept his eyes on the gun as though hypnotized by it.

"Shut up and sit still." "You're a smart . . ." The man glanced away from the gun just long enough to see if there was anything near that he could grab. "Wot you going to do? Let me go. I ain't done nothing but eat some of your grub. Honest, mister, I'll get out of here quick if you'll put that gun down." This was the voice of a frightened man, but not the voice or true dialect of a hobo. Jerry relaxed slightly, and the man in the chair moved. This was the time to "follow through" if he was ever going to do it.

"Get up and do exactly as I tell you," he commanded.

The man cringed but rose slowly, his eyes still on the gun. He hated guns; he was afraid of guns, and he knew now that this man knew it, too. If he could only knock it to the floor . . .

"Keep your hands high, get to that telephone beside the door, and do as I tell you. Any monkey-business . . ."

The man advanced toward the door and the telephone without looking from right to left. Jerry moved to his side as he passed him. He could feel the man's body tremble, as though he were having a chill, when he touched him with the gun.

Family Cooperation Cuts Expenses

Bell Syndicate—WNU Features

Morse would earn the dollar Gus got for helping Dad clean the car every Saturday afternoon.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE story of the Cutter family is worth telling in these days when prices are skyrocketing, when all the governments of the world are concerned with the problems of living conditions and when taxes are higher than they ever were in the world before and the rising tide of national debts indicates that they'll stay high.

George Cutter's salary 10 years ago, when his two older children were babies, was $4,200 a year. The family lived on it nicely and paid for a home that is still comfortable, although in a less desirable neighborhood than it was.

Hazel Cutter is a clever and practical woman. She and her husband worked out a budget and felt themselves free of money anxiety. During the war George's pay went up and now he receives $7,200 a year. Taxes of various sorts reduce this income by about $2,000. This leaves him and Hazel $500 a month on which to manage.

Hazel-Ann, Morse and Shirley-Jane are at expensive ages: Shoes, schooling, car fares, dentistry, laundry. Hazel tries to keep food under $50 a week, but can't always manage it, for the young Cutters are hospitable and often her main dish, planned for at least two dinners, is finished at one. Then she has all the worry of today's good mothers to see that the children get fruit juices, green vegetables, milk and cream. And this doesn't include the lunch money or extra milk and cones—both nourishing, but they count up!

They Begin to Worry

About two years ago the senior Cutters found themselves getting worried, nervous, irritable and unsatisfied, bitten by all those financial termites that fret our lives today. They simply couldn't keep the pace set by the children's needs—movies, cameras, new coats, bicycle mending, radio mending, cleaner, school treats, swim suits and a thousand other claims.

The Cutters are more than sensible and practical people. They always have kept and developed the spiritual side of their lives and, as Hazel's letter says, they "took it to the Lord in prayer." Shortly afterward, they invited the children to a family conference and supplied all three, even "Twirley," with pads and pencils.

Then George set down his salary and wrote against it the absolute essentials—taxes of all types; gas, electricity and telephone bills, upkeep for the car, his club dues and his lunches. The older children also wrote down these sums and everyone subtracted them.

Then Mother offered a few calculations. Butcher, baker and grocer had their turn. These were subtracted, too. The children were impressed now, but still there was something close to $200 left and they felt that it was a generous margin.

So George deposited that in the bank at the corner and every night the Cutters checked their daily outlay against it. Everything—daily paper, the telephone, the car, tooth paste, films, candy, magazines, carfare, movies, gum—was listed.

"Good work, Mr. Anderson, good work,"

When the officers yanked the man to his feet and they had started for the door, one of them said to the prisoner, "You're lucky to have had this extra living time, him spotting you and with everybody in the county ready and willing to shoot you on sight."

The prisoner did not comment, but he scowled and was shaking and snorting with anger.

"The gun was not loaded, officer, and I could recognize him only from his story . . . you see, I am blind," Jerry said softly.

TEAMWORK

With the advent of zooming prices and higher living costs, the Cutter family finds that it is unable to keep its books balanced. Their three children are at ages where demands upon the family purse are exceptionally heavy. Fretful and nervous about the bottomless morass of debt into which they are slowly sinking, Mr. and Mrs. Cutter evolve a simple scheme to retain their financial solvency.

At a family conference each member of the family anticipates his needs for the coming month. Grocery, gas, electricity and tax bills are tabulated. When the expected expenditures are deducted from the net monthly income, a comfortable balance of $200 is left. Thus, a complete plan for the ensuing month is outlined.

About the third week in the month the money was gone.

Children Protest

"But Mother," said Hazel-Ann in tears, "I have to have my dollar for the school picnic." "But Dad," Morse said, aghast, "if your shoes are right through, gosh, don't you have to get new ones?"

"Not unless the money is there," said the senior Cutters. "But, Mother, you can charge!" "No, Daddy and I never charge." "But you could this once."

"No, because your dentist bill is coming in, Hazel-Ann, and we haven't paid for the window Morse broke playing ball."

"But do they have to come out of just that one bank!" the children gasped.

"They do, indeed. So now let's just see what we can do."

The Cutters calculated what they could do without. Mother would do without Dora's help once a week if Hazel-Ann would iron the flat pieces. Morse would earn the dollar Gus got for helping Dad clean the car every Saturday afternoon. Both would walk the extra half mile to public school next term if Dad didn't mind. Dad didn't mind. Everyone would give up daily dimes for comics, cokes and cones. The children grew eager and almost noisy in their enthusiasm.

That was two years ago. The Cutters still balance the books every night. If George Cutter gets an unexpected commission, everyone shares in the extra money. If illness or any small domestic accident complicates finances the Cutters take to cheaper meals for a while. And Hazel Cutter is a genius when it comes to vegetable dinners, stews, minces and dried fruit desserts.

No, it wasn't easy or always agreeable and serene. What is? But the older Cutters are solvent and they sleep nights. And the younger Cutters are learning the value of money and not hearing financial battles going on over their heads. And that's something.

Who Owns Wedding Gifts?

DECATUR, ILL. — Taking issue with some etiquette authorities, Judge Martin E. Northland denied the claim of Mrs. Edith Greenberg to $550 worth of wedding presents.

She asked for them as she obtained a divorce from her husband. Judge Northland commented that an authority on etiquette said wedding gifts belong to the wife, "but she cannot be accepted as a legal authority." He ruled that the presents belonged to both.

FIRST AID to the

by Roger C. Whitman

QUESTION: My hot-water tank is not a year old and I have rusty water coming out of my hot-water faucets. Can you give me any suggestions on the subject?

ANSWER: One reason may be that you're heating the water too much. A temperature of 130 to 140 degrees is hot enough for domestic hot water. When water is heated more than that, sediment is stirred up that is carried along in the water supply. You could prevent overheating by installing an automatic control. Also, your water supply may contain a great deal of sediment, which could be controlled by a water filter.

QUESTION: We are planning to put up a frame cottage of five rooms next summer. Regarding cement blocks for foundation, people have cautioned me against buying blocks that are made during the winter. Is there any reason for this?

ANSWER: It is true that cement work should not be allowed to freeze during the process of manufacture or construction. Reputable cement block manufacturers do not allow this to happen, however, even during the winter.

Many Infallible Proofs

Grace Noll Crowell

O H, many there are, but in my heart alone There are a thousand shining proofs that Christ

Is a living force today, for I have known The white infallible ones that have sufficed To blot away all doubt; He is so near That I can touch Him with my reaching hand; He is so close to me that I can hear Him speak the simple words I understand.

"Many infallible proofs," He showed to them As they walked and talked with Him on His earthly way.

But I have often touched His garment's hem, And felt His healing power as well as they. Oh, not alone to them came proof on proof—He shares my loaf, He lives beneath my roof!

FARM FACTS WORTH KNOWING

Send your questions about livestock or poultry problems to Farm Facts, 835 South Eighth Street, St. Louis 2, Missouri. Questions will be answered without charge, either by mail or in this column, as a service of this newspaper.

Q—How much pasture should there be per cow?

A—In most cases there should be at least one acre of pasture per cow. However, this may be more than necessary in some areas and is only a rough estimate.

Q—How soon after farrowing should the sow be allowed to exercise?

A—Animal husbandmen at Purdue University say that starting the second day after farrowing the sow should be left out for one or more hours of daily exercise. This activity helps sows to function normally and should not be overlooked.

Q—Is there an effective treatment for foot rot in sheep?

A—The time of treatment depends upon severity and extent of infection in the flock. In severe cases no treatment is particularly effective unless necrotic tissue is pared away. If circumstances warrant individual treatment, apply tatar emetic 50 per cent in a lanolin base wax, or use a 10 per cent formaldehyde solution. This or other treatment of individual feet should be under the supervision of a veterinarian.

When the infection involves the majority of the flock and is not severe, satisfactory results may be obtained by the use of a foot bath trough (wooden) containing a 20 per cent solution of copper sulfate or so-called bluestone. Walk the sheep through this solution at three-day intervals.

Q—How can red mites in the pulley house be controlled?

A—A famous feed concern's demonstration farm puts out an insect oil which when thoroughly painted or sprayed over the posts, floors and walls of pulley stables should eliminate the red mites and keep them down for about a year.

Q—When cows are on pasture, should they also be fed grain?

A—Yes, feeding the proper proportion of grain ration while cows are on pasture is one of the most important measures of it to keep a herd at capacity production and profit through the year. Even when cows are turned out on the finest of spring pasture, they need a well balanced grain ration to maintain pro-

Wheat Grindings Gain 10% From February to March Census Reports

Hamlin area wheat growers and others will be glad to know that wheat grinding gained 10 per cent from February to March, according to a report to The Herald from the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Compared to March 1947, wheat grinding fell 19 per cent to 3,599,000 bushels in March 1948.

The Bureau's seasonally-adjusted index dropped 20 per cent in March to 147 per cent of the prewar (1935-39) base period.

Wheat flour production rose nine per cent over February, but slipped 16 per cent below March 1947.

Prices at Southwest Farm Markets Follow Uneven Trend During Past Week

Prices at most of the Southwest markets followed very uneven trends during the past week. According to The Herald from the United States Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration.

Cotton prices fell at the first of the week but gained later on to just about reach the level of a week ago. Dallas and Houston quoted spot middling 15-16 inch Friday at 37.90 cents a pound, with Galveston at 37.65, and New Orleans 37.95.

Grains dropped early but climbed back to mostly higher levels than last Friday. Wheat netted three cents, however, and barley eight cents. No. one hard wheat closed Friday at $22.49 1/2 cents a bushel in bulk car lots at Texas common points. No. 2 white oats brought $1.28 to $1.32 and milo $3.83 to $3.88.

Wheat millfeeds eased, with bran sharply lower, as rains slowed demand. Hay trading moved to the new crop basis, and Kansas City quoted No. 1 alfalfa at $25 a ton. Seed peanuts sold lower at 20 cents despite active planting. Spring chickens strengthened slightly, but other poultry and eggs held about unchanged for the week.

Current eggs receipts stayed close to the support price of 37 cents a dozen at Dallas and Fort Worth, while Denver paid 36 to 37 1/2 and New Orleans 39 to 41. Friers ranged mostly from 40 to 45 cents but New Orleans paid 43.

Sheep and lamb prices drifted generally 50 cents to $2 lower this week though shorn lamb at Kansas City and all lambs at San Antonio held about steady. Goats sold steady to slightly easier. Medium and good shorn lambs brought $19 to $23 at San Antonio, $19 to $24.50 at Fort Worth, and $21.50 to $24 at Kansas City.

Wool sold higher at 75 to 80 cents a pound for best grease wool in Texas.

Mixed strength and weakness visited southwest cattle markets this week, with prices varying by class and grade from around a dollar higher to a dollar lower at the different terminals. Common and medium slaughter steers and yearling brought $22 to $25 at Houston, and medium and good grades drew $25 to $31 at Fort Worth. San Antonio moved medium steers at $28.50. Kansas City turned high-good and choice steers at $33 to $34, and Denver took medium to choice at $27.75 to $33.

"It Was All I Could Do To Force Down a Bite or Two Says Mrs. W. E. Mustain in Praising Retonga for Relief It Gave her from Distress of Indigestion, Gas, Stomach

"As my husband said, 'Retonga is one medicine we will be glad to recommend to anyone,' happily states Mrs. E. W. Mustain, who lives in her own home with her husband and four children at 2023 N. E. 28th St., Fort Worth, Texas. A member of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Mustain was born and raised in Nacogdoches County, Texas. She gratefully adds:

"It was all I could do to force down a bite or two at meal times, because food seemed to stop in my chest and not go down. At night I would have to get up out of bed because I felt like I couldn't breathe, and I suffered untold torture from muscular aches and pains in my shoulder and arms. For two or three hours in the mornings I felt fine, but the rest of the day was a drag for me. I seemed to be full of toxic poisons and just felt awful. 'Retonga gave me the relief that all other medicines I have tried failed to give me. My appetite is good I eat anything I want, and I can take a good, full breath now and not be bothered by that full feeling. These awful aches and pains have let up. I sleep restfully and feel good all day long. I will be glad to personally tell anyone about Retonga.' Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency and constipation. The active ingredients of Retonga are purley herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. You can get Retonga at WAGGONER DRUG STORE. (Adv)

Veterans' News

The questions and answers below about veteran problems are carried as a service to former service-connected personnel by The Herald. Material for the column is supplied by the area office of the Veterans Administration at Lubbock.

Q—Is it correct that training officers from Veterans Administration have been relieved of all responsibility for the direct supervision of World War II veterans training under the GI Bill?

A—Yes. The change will permit VA's training officers to devote more time to the needs of disabled veterans training under the Vocational Rehabilitation Act. All state approval agencies, schools and training establishments have been asked to meet fully their obligations under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act. (GI Bill)

Q—How many veterans suffered speech impairment during World War II and what is being done to aid them in overcoming their handicap?

A—Approximately 100,000 World War II veterans suffered speech impairment in service. Special restorative training has been established by VA to help eligible veterans overcome the handicap.

J—May I name more than one beneficiary to my National Service Life Insurance?

A—Yes. You may divide the amount of your policy between two or more beneficiaries. You may also name one or more contingent beneficiaries.

Q—Can a World War II veteran be denied benefits by Veterans Administration if he has fraudulently obtained subsistence payments under the G-I Bill?

A—In a decision issued recently by Veterans Administration Central Office in Washington, the veterans who fraudulently obtained such subsistence payments would be barred from all rights to compensation, pension, hospitalization, unemployment allowances, education, job-training and other benefits to which veterans are normally entitled.

Dr. M. S. J. P. H. left Saturday for Galveston where Dr. Hocott is spending this week in the Searley Hospital in a special course for tumor clinic. This opportunity is the second time he has had a similar course there with all expenses paid. He will be back in the Hamlin Hospital next Monday.

Mrs. P. D. Funderburk, registered nurse, who has been with the Hamlin Hospital since its opening in February, accompanied her husband to Wichita Falls last week in search of a house to live in. Mr. Funderburk has been transferred by the Shell Pipe Line to a new position in Wichita Falls. The house was not found, and pending their move, she will continue to be available for service in the hospital.

Alvin Pittman, age 15, of Rochester was in Hamlin last week visiting his sister, Mrs. Lary Stubbs and became ill. An operation for appendicitis was performed at The Hamlin Hospital on Friday. This young fellow got along so well that he says he wants to get a job right away and maybe some day be one of the doctors. —you can't tell about a boy.

CURRENT COMMENT

By LEON GUINN

The whole world has been waiting more or less for the log jam that is now developing in the few weeks that remain before Congress adjourns. . . . News from the capitol gives an inkling as to how the House Appropriations Committee, for example, has not yet started on hearings (full scale) to determine pay for veteran programs. . . . This measure alone will call for millions of dollars, and day by day progress reveals how congressional tempers are growing shorter as campaign days near. . . . Best bet at mid-week is that Congress will "clear the underbrush" and pass only the most urgent of bills needed to keep the ship of state in fair sailing order.

The terror that can strike in the middle of the night, wiping out thousands of persons in a split second, is grimly hinted at by competent military men in recent tests of atomic weapons on pock-marked Eniwetok. . . . Latest tests indicate a new type of bomb more powerful than the Bikini types, which carried more death than the Hiroshima variety. . . . Look for the Atomic Energy Commission to revamp and expand a number of plants in the near future. . . . Russia does not care to reveal to the world just how far along Soviet scientists are with atomic research, but it's a safe bet Russia isn't yet ready to nuke on Uncle Sam—especially since the underdog got word back to Moscow to the effectiveness of our newest atomic weapon.

Horse feathers in tapioca may not be so crazy as it may first sound before this wacky world gets back on even keel; for, believe it or not, a brand new book is rolling off the press entitled "A Manual for Baby Sitters." . . . In the days we now term olden—those happy days going back 35 to 40 years ago—we had no such "animal" as a "baby sitter;" in fact, folks were so busy making a living and bringing a little sunshine into their daily lives they usually let children get a little honest dirt on their faces and hands; a few splinters in their tender knees and feet; and when baby got out of line, hickory tea was about the most effective remedy known to mankind. . . . This new book, by the way, is being published by Little-Brown, and supposed to make the business of baby sitting scientific and quite profitable.

Little-Brown overlooked a rather important point, too, in their book for baby sitters when they failed to outline what people should do when a "sitter" is caught with a baby over 18 in his lap. . . . However, the tender years of childhood are expected to be the most precious, and parents with the modern view need to be honky-tonking, out of town for the week-end or probably neck deep in a love triangle; therefore, they need to pay hired hands to look after such unimportant things as children and especially put the "tykes" to bed when day is done. . . . The successful sitter needs to almost complete four years in college to be well qualified for his or her position, for the successful in this career need to know what kind of stories to read to put baby to laughing; in a mood to mind without spanking, and what type of psychology to use when baby (if under 18) will not eat its capuled nourishment. . . . Well, Little-Brown might as well add to the general confusion because children are becoming so expensive only the poor can afford many.

Reliable reports, as verified from several sources, indicate U. S. and Russian trade will come in soon for a minor revival. . . . You will note that exchange of goods between the two countries has almost stopped completely. . . . We feel at the moment that exportation of goods that are neither of military nor probable military value are to be encouraged. . . . Machine tools, you can wager your Roosevelt dimes, will be on the banned list. . . . The Department of Commerce, rest assured, has a forbidden list now of what cannot be shipped abroad (to world markets) and those in key positions say the forbidden list has been greatly revised during the last six months. . . . Notice that Hoffman is getting a little worried over the fact Congress has not yet voted full ERP appropriations. . . . He has already committed that billion in stop-gap funds he got from Reconstruction Finance Corporation for immediate export.

Discount any propaganda from overseas to the contrary, it is reemphasized this week, for the United States firmly intends to cling to the U. S. zone in Berlin. . . . We have, as a long range objective, setting up some happy day a disarmed but Democratic German state.

Early Control Effective

A sound cotton program in Jones County and the rest of the Cotton Belt leads to balanced production, lower costs, better cotton and higher profits. These aims are a part of the seven-step cotton program that has been projected for several years. Success is already being attained in noticeable degrees.

Insect control is one of the important steps in such a program. It pays best when the land is capable of producing one-third of a bale or more per acre, Extension Service workers declare, and all of Hamlin area land will come in this classification in normal years.

Already H. C. Stanley Jr., ones County farm agent, is talking with producers about their insect poisoning plans. The cotton producers themselves agree that a program of early poisoning is most effective, and area producers will try to be ready when infestations need poisoning put into effect.

A few days ago Stanley declared that there is now in the county a supply of poison available for farmers, for grasshoppers and other insects. An alerted group of producers will be ready to cope with the insect menace.

Bury Part of Your Wealth

Contrary to the advice given by most economists, The Herald urges the Hamlin area farmer and rancher who raise crops to go out and bury part of their wealth. We believe that is the practical, sound thing to do in times like these. If there is to be wealth to be enjoyed in decades to come, experience teaches that burying your wealth is practical.

Of course, we have reference not to actual silver and greenbacks, but to legumes and other past crop residues that will give untold richness to the soil so that greater crops may be raised on the land in following years.

Plow a green manure crop into your land as often as necessary to keep the productivity up. Winter and summer legume crops help you make a better living.

Those crops add nitrogen and organic matter to the soil. They protect against erosion by wind and water. They produce good green grazing, hay, seed. Talk with the Soil Conservation Service technicians in the California Creek Soil Conservation District about proper inoculation, fertilizers and other practical pointers about enrichment of the soil.

Power Industries Progress

According to an article in Public Utilities by John P. Callahan of the New York Times, "Federal power men . . . have on the drawing boards, or are completing, 29 projects involving almost four billions of dollars for construction."

This is simply additional proof of the fact that the ultimate goal of the public power group is complete socialization of the electric industry of this country—and centralized, political control of an absolutely vital resource. The program cannot be justified on the grounds of necessity.

The electric industry has proven itself completely capable of serving the farms, industries and homes of the nation, and its present great expansion program will provide a safe margin between supply and demand in a relatively short time.

The federal power drive in the U. S. is based on ideological grounds which parallel the communistic philosophy. It is an example of European collectivist thinking applied to America. Socialization of the electric industry would be a perfect precedent to socializing all other basic industry. It would be a springboard, leading to the establishment of a totalitarian economic system in the United States, which we profess to abhor.

MacArthur Is Good Soldier

We have an idea that General MacArthur is sorry that he ever wrote a letter admitting that he would be eligible for the presidency. He has made a very poor showing up to the present time.

Frankly, the people of America are not interested in a military president at the present time. Eisenhower knows this to be a fact, and has taken himself out of the running. He maintains, and rightly so, that America should not have a military man at the head of the government.

MacArthur is an able general. He is making a good record in handling the civilians of Japan, but he rules with an iron hand, according to observers who have been to Japan. He would be disappointed in his administration should he return as a military hero and attempt to rule Congress as he rules the Japs. It is just as well that MacArthur know now that he is not acceptable to the people as head of the government.

15,000 West Texas Veterans Eligible For Increased Rates of Pay in August

More than 15,000 West Texas World War II veterans in education and training programs in this area will be eligible for increased rates of pay through the Veterans Administration based on legislation signed several days ago by President Truman, Robert W. Sisson, VA regional manager at Lubbock, has announced in a release of The Herald.

About 650 Jones County veterans are eligible under the education and training programs. Veteran trainees are urged not to write to the VA regional office at Lubbock, or to any other VA office, asking how to qualify for the increased subsistence benefits. This most recent change in legislation increases the wage ceilings, and the number of dependents, which determines the amount of subsistence allowance VA can pay the veteran trainees. The new law also increases the subsistence allowances for part-time school training and for combination school and job training, including institutional on-the-farm training.

Sisson said that the higher rates will be paid automatically to those veterans whose existing applications with VA contain the information needed to certify them for the increase. Adjustments for disabled veterans training under the vocational rehabilitation (Public Law 16) and qualified to receive additional benefits also will be automatic.

When additional information is needed from veterans training under the GI Bill, the veteran will receive a form from the VA regional office asking for the necessary data. Since adjustments will be made on the basis of these completed forms, veterans are urged to return them immediately when they are received.

Due to the necessity of checking the more than 15,000 individual files and the accounting process involved, initial payments at the higher rates will not be made before the July subsistence checks are sent out about August 1. The increase will be retroactive to April 1, 1948, in most cases, and the initial payment at the adjusted rate will include all increases due from April 1 through the end of the subsistence period covered by that check.

Higher ceilings for on-the-job trainees provide that earned income plus subsistence shall not exceed $210 a month for a veteran without dependents, $270 for a veteran with one dependent, and $290 for a veteran with more than one dependent. Previous limits were $175 for a veteran without dependents and $200 for a veteran with one or more dependents. In the case of veterans in job training only, no change was made in the maximum subsistence payable of $65 a month to a veteran without dependents and $90 to a veteran with one or more dependents.

RAILROADING DELUXE

The trend in railroad car design has us dizzy. It's all very well to spring a new de luxe car once or twice a year but when they come out once or twice an hour it is too much. Having done about everything possible to the outside of our trains, the boys now are working wonders with the inside. One road has just come out with a recreation car which includes (cross my heart!) a game and reading lounge, a children's enclosed playroom, an automat lunch, a sunken buffet lounge and a news-reel theater!

We have come to a point on our railroads where everything is so cozy that a passenger finds life drab and unbearable when he gets off.

This latest recreation car has everything except a bowling alley, squash court, swimming pool and fishing lodge. The motif is so swanky that when a conductor enters he seems almost an intruder from the other side of the tracks. Noting the "In case of emergency" cord a passenger is apt to interpret it as an emergency when a cardtable wobbles, the griddlecakes are underdone or the movies are blurred.

Nobody will deny that for years there has been a crying need for improvement in railroad cars, but the present pace in modernization is dazzling. Changes come out so rapidly that a passenger no longer is surprised if an orchestra pit and sunken garden are added during a station stop.

The result is disquieting. We like comfort and a little swank, but when we board a choo-choo these days we feel as uncertain as when we are going through a night club on which the workmen still are busy. We have a feeling the conductor may ask us at any moment to step forward while a new rumpus room is installed.

When we take a de luxe train we keep wondering whether we are going to be disturbed by paper hangers, rug layers and interior decorators between stops. We observed a puzzled lady board a super-duper train recently and ask, "Can you direct me to the railroad car?"

Our trains are becoming Alice-in-Wonderland studios in pastels, murals, panels and upholstery trends. There are moments when we are not sure whether we are going places by railroad or by Good Housekeeping and Vogue.

And then there was the case of the two girls who disgustingly exclaimed after walking through four cars, "What! No floor show?"

John Ringling North says he will not permit general broadcasting of the circus by television. This is a source of relief to countless housewives. Once the elephants come stomping into the living room by video it will be a frightful job sweeping the peanut shucks from the rugs.

And it would be confusing too. At times we couldn't be too sure which was Gargantua and which was the radio commentator.

PRaise FOR U. N.

It's weak and sick, it's pale and thin, but it's a darned good league for the shape it's in.

The Country Editor Says:

Jason Wiggs who used to worry over things like saving tinfoil and cigarette pictures now is a leader in the Save Europe campaign.

Deke Bumble broke his silence in the 1948 political campaign this morning and came out for the first candidate who doesn't grin much.

Mr. and Mrs. Luke Whipple are recovering slowly after a long spell of trying to assemble their new prefabricated $10,000 home.

We have looked over that new half dollar critically. Our verdict is that it is not worth a nickel.

There are times when General Marshall must wish he was back in a nice, big war where he could get some place.

Warren Wright, who takes most of the derbies with his super racing stable, is a baking soda tycoon. Thus, in a way, is the home linked up with the turf. When we think of Citation we think of mother in the kitchen making bread and cookies... at the mention of Coaltown our mind centers on thousands of housewives baking a cake or preparing a potpie. We love horses and it comforts us to dwell on the fact that there is such a strong tie between a horse and a cruller.

24th SENATORIAL DISTRICT
Your Vote and Influence Appreciated

Bullock, Colorado City Announces Candidacy 24th District Senate

To the Voters of the 24th Senatorial District:

Early in January of this year I announced my candidacy for reelection to a second full term in the Texas Senate. I now want to take this opportunity to solicit the votes and influence of the citizens of this district in the July primary.

During my service as your Senator the Lieutenant Governor has seen fit to place me on a number on the most important committees in the Senate.

In addition to my regular assignment, I was appointed on the following special committees: The Educational Committee; the Educational Investigating Committee; and the Joint Legislative Rural Aid Committee which supervised the distribution of Rural Aid to the various school districts of Texas qualifying to receive aid under the law.

I have tried earnestly to represent the people of the 24th Senatorial District as well as all of the people of Texas while serving on committees and when casting my vote on the Senate floor. I have never dodged an issue nor have I ever ridden the fence on any measure.

Since becoming a member of the Senate I have consistently opposed new taxes of any type. Our tax burden is too heavy now. If and when new taxes are needed to adequately finance our state government they should come from sources other than an ad valorem

Sadler, Sweetwater, Announces Candidacy 24th District Senate

I am taking this opportunity of making known my candidacy for the Texas Senate from the 24th Senatorial District, which comprises of the following counties: Scurry, Mitchell, Fisher, Nolan, Haskell, Jones, Taylor, Throckmorton, Shackelford, Callahan, Stephens and Eastland.

I feel that my friends and the voters know that I fully realize the importance and grave responsibilities of this office. I have served in the House of Representatives from the 117th District for the past six years. I believe that the record will show that I have always been on the job, serving on important committees and working not only in the interest of the district that I represented, but for the welfare of our State.

If my friends and the voters feel that I am the one that can best

Health Officer Says Permitting Children To Die of Diphtheria

It is a tragedy that Texas parents continue to allow their babies to suffer and die from that painful and killing disease diphtheria. This is the opinion of Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, who says "It is up to the parents. If they protect their children with immunization, they need not have diphtheria."

Dr. Cox said that it is amazing that this disease should be allowed to take its toll of young lives when it can be entirely stamped out by proper immunization. Yet in the past week 32 cases were reported in this state.

"Babies should be immunized by the age of eight or nine months," Dr. Cox advised. Authorities on the care of infants recommend a first dose by the age of eight or nine months. A second dose is usually given later.

To maintain complete immunity, Dr. Cox said that a reinforcing dose of toxoid is advised when a child is old enough to enter school if a Schick test reveals the need of one. Children who have never been immunized certainly should be protected without any further delay, the state health officer declared.

I will appreciate hearing from friends from over the District. Please drop me a line to Box 846, Sweetwater, Texas.

I am, gratefully yours,

Never too late...

Whatever its birth date... your car will live a longer life if you regularly drain out old oil and OIL-PLATE with Conoco Nth Motor Oil.

And here's the reason why. The moment Nth Motor Oil (Patented) enters your engine, a special added ingredient fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that cylinder walls and all working parts are literally OIL-PLATED!

This protective OIL-PLATING stays right up there... won't drain down to the crankcase, even with your engine idle over night! That's why Nth Motor Oil extra-protects from "dry-friction" starts... from metal-eating combustion acids... from sludge and carbon due to wear!

So, for full-time protection... for more miles per quart, make a date now...

Ellison and Johnson Listed As Among Graduates at HS-U

Jack Ellison and Alvin Johnson two former Hamlin High School gridiron specialists who still refer to Hamlin as home are listed among the 145 spring candidates for graduation at Hardin-Simmons University, Dr. Robert A. Collins, dean, has announced.

Ellison and Johnson will graduate with the largest spring class in the school's history. Another record will also be set by Hardin-Simmons this year. For the first time, August exercises will be held for students completing work during the summer. A total of 120 students are slated for degrees at that time.

Both Johnson and Ellison have brought wide recognition to both Hamlin and Hardin-Simmons, Ellison as a three-year letterman in guard position for the Cowboys and Johnson as three year stalwart at quarterback.

Both were named all-Border Conference before their graduation. Johnson received the honor in 1946 and 1947 while Ellison was named all conference last year.

Both men are to receive their Bachelor of Science degree from HSU this Spring with majors in Physical Education. Ellison, however, minored in Biology and English while Johnson minored in History.

With regards to the future, both lads have already penned contracts that will keep them in the sporting world. Since he completed his required work in January, Ellison has been assistant coach at Texas School of Mines, El Paso. He will return to Abilene for the exercises.

Johnson, meanwhile, has signed to play professional football with the Philadelphia Eagles. Along with him will go teammate J. C. "Bullet" Cook of Baird, who is also graduating this spring. During spring training this year, Johnson has been helping Coach Warren B. Woodson train next year's backfield aspirants led by last year's freshman flash, Wilton "Hook" Davis.

56th annual commencement exercises was held Monday May 31, in historic Behrens Chapel on the Hardin-Simmons campus. Allan Shivers, Lieutenant Governor of Texas, is scheduled to be guest speaker.

Max Murrel arrived home for the summer last Saturday from SMU at Dallas.

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life—matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good health is to endure. When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance. The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Light Cases of Minor Diseases Need Care Says Health Officer

With the incidence of chickenpox 100 per cent higher than records indicate for a seven-year median, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, this week issued a statement to people of the Hamlin area declaring "It is a great mistake to treat even light cases of childhood diseases such as chickenpox, measles, mumps, scarlet fever or whooping cough as though they did not amount to much. That sort of treatment makes it possible for these diseases to spread and cause serious outbreaks among children and their resulting impaired resistance makes them easy victims to other forms of infection."

"Some of the most serious outbreaks of chickenpox have been traced to mild cases—that is, cases so light that the doctor was not called. In some instances the children have continued to go to school and to associate and play with other children. In others, after they have been kept at home for a few days, they have returned to school and have scattered these germs among their schoolmates. Strict isolation of chickenpox patients is the only means by which the spread can be controlled and parents should cooperate fully in isolating a child as long as the doctor thinks is advisable."

The state health officer said that the family doctor is the best judge of the seriousness of such childhood diseases, and suffering and anxiety will be avoided if the doctor's advice is sought and followed throughout the course of the illness.

"TALL TALES OF STAMPEDES"

"It was dark'n the inside of a cow with her lights drilled out!" explained Frank Mitchell, night rider of the JA herd, as he described a stampede that won for his horse a new name—that of Flying Machine.

It seems that Mitchell was one of the eight or 10 cowhands that was helping to trail break the 2,000 head from the Palo Duro canyons as they stretched out towards D. qe. Now these cattle were the progeny of Goodnight's new cross-breeding program, which he had started with 100 Durham bulls in 1877—just three years before, when they had moved down from Colorado. Their hides were a little darker and perhaps their legs a mite shorter, but that old Longhorn spirit seemed to be with them still. They liked to sniff up a stampede, especially on a dark night.

The night was still, for one thing; and when the darkness had begun to settle, it hadn't waited down gently. It dropped like a stuffed shroud. There had been no sign of breeze and the air was clear as a bell. The lease sound cut the night like a whip.

Mitchell began singing to the cattle as he circled their bedding ground, but he soon found that he had turned in to soon and was in the midst of the herd; he had been unable to see. Then a glimmer of lightening showed him those animals, every head was lifted expectantly, as if awaiting some certain signal.

"Let me out of here and quick!" he muttered as he tried to quickly turn his horse about with out frightening them. It wouldn't take much to jump that herd now.

And then it happened. A clap of thunder split the air, and the cattle arose as a unit. The herd swept

Crippled Children Will Say Thanks To Hospital's Donors

Jean Monteith, 6, of Nugent, is one of 5,245 crippled children of Texas whose thanks will be expressed to benefactors of Texas Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children, Dallas, when the institution holds its annual memorial service in May. The ceremony, honoring men and women who have left bequests in their wills to carry on the hospital's work, will be broadcast over Radio Station WFAA 570 from 3:30 to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 23. A floral wreath from present and former patients will be placed on the memorial statue which bears the donor's names.

"Well, the stampede headed for a bluff that I didn't know was there," Mitchell continued with his story, "and so did I."

"But you know, that horse didn't

Livestock Prizes At State Fair of Texas Increased

Hamlin area exhibitors were interested this week in announcement that a total premium of $62,191 for the 1948 livestock and junior livestock shows at the State Fair of Texas, representing a substantial increase over last year, as announced by R. L. Thornton, state fair president. National and state pure-bred livestock associations cooperating with the state fair, are offering $11,450 of this amount.

Twenty-six breeds of livestock will compete for a premium of $52,123 at the state fair's livestock show, to be held October 13 to 22.

A record number of 4-H Club members and Future Farmers is expected to compete in the state fair's junior livestock show, October 9 to 12, for a total premium of $10,068.

Jones County exhibitors last year placed several animals in the winning brackets.

Improvement in the quality and breeding of livestock to bring about more efficient production of milk, meat, wool and mohair, and a more prosperous livestock industry on farms and ranches of Texas, is the fundamental objective behind the greatly increased emphasis on the livestock program for the 1948 State Fair," Mr. Thornton said in a release to The Herald.

In 1947 attendance at the fair totaled 1,763,821—an all-time record—and included farmers, ranchers, business men who own farms and ranches and the largest group of 4-H boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers in the country. Attendance for 1948 is expected to exceed 2,000,000.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Instead of sewing shoulder pads into dresses, attach them with small snaps. Sew top half of snap to shoulder seams, lower half on pads. Snap out at laundry or cleaning time; one pair will do for several dresses and blouses, too.

An ordinary alarm clock may be used to indicate when cakes should come out of the oven, and time other household tasks.

A little butter or cooking oil added to the water when cooking sweet potatoes will eliminate the "ring around the pan".

When unsetting the table, stack dishes orderly in place to be washed so that they will not have to be moved or restacked before washing.

Always remove colored clothes from washline as soon as they are dry: sunlight, a natural bleach, is hard on colors.

Custom Work on Farms

Two reasons account, in large measure, for the heavy demand for custom work with farm machinery during the past few years. In the first place, the amount of machinery available on most farms simply is not sufficient to meet the demand resulting from the shortages of labor and increased purchasing power in the hands of farmers. Secondly, numerous farms are now and always have been too small to make effective and economical utilization of many types of farm equipment. The only way the operator of a small farm can have economical access to certain types of machinery is either to hire a custom operator to do the work for him, or, if he elects to own the machines himself, to do sufficient custom work for others to provide for economical utilization of his machinery.

Harsh Laxatives are NOT necessary for most people

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you! Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B₁ and P. They alkalize; aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By LOUIE D. NEWTON, D. D.

SCRIPTURE: Daniel 3:6
DEVOTIONAL READING: Acts 5:27-32

Men Who Dared To Stand For God

Lesson for June 6, 1948

AFIERY furnace, and a lion's den. These are the tests to which Sunday's lesson will put our hero about whom we studied last Sunday, this young man Daniel. Three friends, Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego, will undergo the test of the fiery furnace, having been convinced by Daniel's example that God is trustworthy. And Daniel will spend the night in the den of lions. You will need to read chapters three through six to get the full story.

DANIEL IN THE DEN OF LIONS

THE sixth chapter must be read to have an adequate background for this study. Daniel had been chosen as the first of three presidents to rule over 120 princes who should govern the kingdom. The other two presidents and the princes could find no fault in this Hebrew, save that he believed and observed the law of his God. So, they conspired against him by persuading the king to issue a decree that no person in the kingdom was to make a petition to any God or man for 30 days, save to the king, on the penalty of being cast into the den of lions. This decree was issued by Darius, and Daniel's enemies reported to Darius that Daniel was opening his window three times a day, praying to his God. Darius was greatly troubled, and had to stand by his decree, and Daniel was cast into the den of lions. Darius spent a sleepless night, and hurried to the den at dawn to know about Daniel. Daniel replied, "O king, live for ever. My God hath sent his angel, and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me."

DARIUS REWARDS DANIEL

CONVINCED that Daniel's convictions had been miraculously rewarded by God, Darius ordered the other two presidents and the princes, together with their wives and children, thrown into the lions' dens. They were all destroyed by the lions.

Then Darius issued a decree to all the nations and people of all languages that dwell in all the earth. Hear this decree: "Peace be multiplied unto you. I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdom men tremble and fear before the God of Daniel; for he is the living God, and steadfast forever, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end." So Daniel prospered in the reign of Darius and of Cyrus, the Persian.

COURAGE TO PUT GOD FIRST

LOOK now at the other test of faith—that of the three Hebrew children, Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego. Nebuchadnezzar, king of Babylon, had made a golden image, 90 feet high and nine feet wide, and set it up in the plain of Dura. On a certain day, when he was going to establish his state religion, he ordered every subject to fall down and worship this image.

But Shadrack, Meshach and Abednego refused to worship the image. Nebuchadnezzar was furious when he heard of their refusal. He summoned them into his presence, and warned them of their fate if they further refused to worship his gods. They answered him frankly that they would not bow down to the image. He ordered them thrown into the fiery furnace.

They decided that death was more honorable than apostasy. The men who cast them into the furnace fell dead!

UNSEARED AND UNSINGED!

BUT THE three Hebrew children walked in the flames, unseared and unsinged! The king was astounded. The people were amazed. They had witnessed what the God of all the earth can and will do.

Then went forth the decree, "There is no other God that can deliver after this sort." Thus we have the golden text for Sunday's lesson: "Be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up."

And what happened in the long ago when man dared to stand up and trust in God will happen today and every day.

Let Children Have Many Happy Returns!

FEW EVENTS WILL MATCH the pleasure that a real birthday party can give to your youngster. The gaiety imparted by a few favors, crepe paper decorations, a house full of little friends and a cake all his own, these are the things a child will remember so pleasantly for a long time.

Birthday party menus depend mainly upon the age of the children. Very simple food is the order of the day for children of three or four; and for children of five or six, the food is only slightly more elaborate. Children from 8 to 10 and older may have things such as lamb chops or hamburgers for the main dish, but it's still important to plan to serve only familiar foods for little guests.

Ice cream and cake are essentials at a birthday party no matter what the age group. For the younger children, however, serve only plain ice cream such as vanilla, and a very simple, not too rich cake, so there will be no digestive upsets.

THE MENUS AND RECIPES I've planned will give you a clue as to the best way to plan these particular party foods.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Youngsters 3 to 4)

or Goldenrod Eggs
Carrot Sticks or Curls
Peanut Butter-Jelly Sandwiches
Vanilla Ice Cream Sponge Cake with Milk
Orange Icing

Goldenrod eggs are a nutritious dish whether the party is for lunch or dinner time. Eggs prepared this way are just a bit more purified than creamed eggs.

Goldenrod Eggs

(Serves 6 to 8)

2 tablespoons butter or substitute
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
6 hard-cooked eggs
Parsley
6 toast wedges

Melt the butter, blend in flour, then add milk slowly and stir in seasonings. Cook until thickened. Cut whites of eggs into tiny slivers and add to the white sauce. Pour creamed mixture over toast wedges and top with hard-cooked yolks pressed through a sieve. Garnish with parsley.

The sandwiches may be omitted when the eggs are served, but if desired, they may be made into "fingers" and also served. If the soup is served, they may be placed on the plate along with it.

A cake that will do the job nicely for the younger generation is this one made with hot milk, eggs and only a little shortening. It may be frosted prettily with a confectioners' icing, moistened with orange juice and flavored with grated orange rind. Flute it through a pastry rosette tube and don't forget to write happy birthday across it and use candles.

Hot Milk Sponge Cake

4 egg yolks
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/2 cup boiling milk or water
1 1/2 cups cake flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon lemon extract
4 stiffly beaten egg whites
Beat egg yolks until very thick; add sugar gradually and continue

LYNN SAYS:
Leftovers Can Be Time and Money Saver.

Do you have a few pieces of pine apple? Broil them to garnish and glorify your meat dish for dinner.

Leftover fruits? Combine them into a gelatin salad. Or make them into a sauce for a pudding.

Do you have some leftover potatoes that were boiled? Brush them with melted fat and broil along with hamburgers, chops or a slice of ham.

beating. Add milk; mix well and add sifted dry ingredients. Mix until smooth and add extract. Fold in egg whites. Bake in an ungreased cake pan in a slow (325 degree) oven for one hour. Invert pan to cool, then frost.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Children 5 to 6)

Ice Cream and Birthday Cake

Beverage

You may use the recipe for creamed eggs, and use chicken. The green peas may be mixed with the chicken or served separately. The carrot slices may be raw or cooked and served with the peas. Use the same cake as suggested for the first menu.

Birthday Party Menu

(For Children over 7)

Lamb Chops on Toast or

Hamburgers on Broiled

Tomato Slices

Crushed Fresh Berries

Birthday Cake

Milk

If you serve lamb chops, it's a good idea to have them boned when you give them to the younger children. They're more healthful, too, if they're broiled.

Here's a tasty recipe for hamburgers, if you decide on them for the party:

Broiled Hamburgers

(Serves 6)

1 pound ground round or chuck

2 tablespoons chili sauce

1 1/2 teaspoons prepared mustard

2 cups milk

1 teaspoon minced onion

1/4 cup fine bread crumbs

1 1/2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce

1/4 teaspoon pepper

8 slices bread

8 slices fresh tomato

Combine all ingredients except sliced bread and tomatoes. Spread on slices of bread. Broil for eight minutes at moderate heat, then top with tomatoes which have been broiled at the same time. Serve at once.

FOR YOUR BIRTHDAY CAKE, select a yellow, white or chocolate one depending upon the youngsters' preference. Then frost it with chocolate frosting, as given below. The cake may be put together with marshmallow cream, spread with the frosting. A procession of animal crackers around the sides will delight the children. If animal candle holders are available, use them on top.

Magic Chocolate Frosting

2 squares unsweetened chocolate

1 1/3 cups (1 can) sweetened condensed milk

1 tablespoon water

Melt chocolate in top of double boiler. Add sweetened, condensed milk, then stir over boiling water five minutes until the mixture thickens. Add water. Cool. Spread on cold cake. This recipe makes enough frosting for the top and sides of two nine-inch layers.

Released by WNU Features

What can you do with those sliced tomatoes? Use them in meat loaf or meat patties or as a sauce base for flavoring other meats. Or stew and sieve them and use for soup.

Is there a dab of applesauce in the refrigerator? Cook it into the youngsters' morning meal.

Never toss away those delicious fruit juices from canned fruit. Thicken with cornstarch and use as pudding sauce or as liquid for gelatin desserts and salads.

Future Prosperity of U. S. Depends on Sound Postwar Planning

Historically, America's economy had its beginnings in farms and in small towns. As more goods were produced and as farms multiplied, more towns came into being and some of them grew into large cities.

The existence of the large cities does not, however, detract from the importance of rural communities. About one-fourth of our people are farmers and dependent upon the production from their land for nearly all their income. Roughly, another fourth, living in small towns and to some extent in the cities, depend on farm trade in one form or another for a livelihood. These two groups represent at least one-half our population.

The importance of prosperity in rural America to the rest of the economy is indicated by the fact that approximately 70 cents of the farm dollar goes into the purchase of things which have to be manufactured. The farmer's prosperity, therefore, makes a maximum contribution toward the creation of pay-rolls and jobs.

Sound postwar planning should result not only in more jobs in your community but in permanent advances for the United States. In a democracy, progressive community action is essential to social and economic progress. — From "Postwar Jobs and Growth in Small Communities," Committee for Economic Development handbook.

POT-SHOTS FROM McCAULLEY

By GEORGE DARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Elvins and children from Levelland visited his mother and sister in McCaulley last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Elvins and children from Fort Worth visited relatives in McCaulley and Sylvester last week-end. They were on their way to Denver, Colorado and other vacation points of interest.

Mrs. W. C. Lee under went major surgery in a Rotan hospital last week.

W. E. Mabery and Charley Mabery from Lamesa and Lubbock were week-end visitors with their mother in McCaulley.

Ted Darden from Carlsbad, New Mexico visited his nephew and family the George Dardens last Saturday.

Rev. Carlton Thompson, local Methodist pastor, will leave this week for Pampa where he and his family will reside. Sorry to lose these fine folks from our community.

Lt. and Mrs. W. H. Pickron from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, Louisiana will arrive this week for a visit with parents in Hamlin and McCaulley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones and sons from Slaton were week-end visitors with relatives in this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Mabery and children are visiting for a few days with his mother and other relatives. Their home is now at Muleshoe.

Brynum Wayne and Patsy Miers of Muleshoe are visiting for a week with relatives in Hamlin and McCaulley.

Yep, folks we have had the rain, approximately seven inches within the last two weeks. Still too wet to plow in places. The frogs are making music that West Texas folks love to hear.

The ladies of the local Methodist Church sponsored a party in honor of Mrs. Carlton Thompson who will leave Monday of this week for Canyon with her husband and baby to make their home. A love offering of silver was presented. Mrs. Thompson. Ladies from the Neinda Methodist Church were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Ray Griffin are the proud parents of a daughter who discovered America Saturday a week ago.

The McCaulley "Red Caps" teenage softball team of boys of McCaulley were defeated by a teen-age Wise Chapel team last Friday night by the score of 19 to 12. A good game with the exception of some costly errors. The same two teams will meet on the local court next Friday night.

McCaulley's High School softball boys team defeated the McCaulley outsiders Friday night by a score of 14 to 6. Both teams were "dolled-up" in new suits.

Seniors and Juniors from McCaulley High returned Wednesday of last week from Carlsbad Caverns an all reported a lovely time.

Local Fisher County candidates are beating the bushes for votes the past week and we look for things to warm up before the primary in July.

See where Martin Dies has thrown his hat in the ring for "Pappy's" seat in the Senate. It's rather difficult for a "has-been" to come back judging from past political history.

If you have loved ones in McCaulley's silent city and you are financially able to kick in a little on the upkeep of the cemetery then your contribution will be appreciated and same acknowledged in this column. Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Earl Madden visited her mother, Mrs. Vera Jayroe, in McCaulley last Sunday.

Frank Jackson, local lumber yard manager, is walking with a cane due to a back ailment. Old age overtakes people and there is nothing we can do about it. Even the scribe is beginning to feel like past history especially after 14 hours on a tractor. Catch ourselves humming that old tune—"Hand Me Down My Walking Cane."

Gotta' go to Lodge, several ball games, plow, all week milk three cows and invited to a couple of weddings for this week and folks if we get a little mixed up and leave out something that's been on the "grapevine" please excuse.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fancher of Sweetwater visited Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fancher. Mrs. John Croxley is back in a Rotan hospital after suffering a relapse last week.

Uncle Sam Says

Seeding time on the farm calls for the use of strong, pure seed able to meet weather and pest attacks and still come through with a good harvest. United States Savings Bonds are like good reliable seed. They grow a crop which can be left to full, rich maturity in ten years at the rate of $4 for every $3 invested. Take a tip from the wise farmer who is storing up a crop of security by investing now in Savings Bonds. He is growing more money, security for himself and his family and security for his country. Your security is America's security.

U. S. Treasury Department

Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Locke, Nancy and Patty of Lubbock were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. Wallace and family last week. Nancy stayed until Monday and left with her mother to attend the graduation exercises of her brother, Durwood.

Mrs. Tom Price and daughter Jewel, visited friends in McCaulley last Monday.

Relatives visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mabery Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Webster, Mrs. J. K. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Whipp, of Lubbock, Mrs. Doris Bedford, Mrs. J. L. Sherill and son of Stamford, Mrs. Nute Stephens an son of Anson, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mabery and Betty of Plainview, John R. Haraghty of Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Mabery and Kenneth Jack. Danny Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mabery and one aunt one great aunt and two great great aunts and the dinner for the above kinsmen.

As we write these lines Monday afternoon it is again raining so perhaps West Texas isn't such a dry State after all. See you next week if we don't drown.—Yours, George.

Eighth Grade Given Skating Party by Homeroom Mothers

Is your refrigerator in top working order?

Well, here is the good 'ole summer time—with the hot, hot days just around the corner—days when your electric refrigerator will really get a work out!

By the way, your electric refrigerator will give you top service only if it is in top working order. We suggest that you have it checked over soon by a serviceman who specializes in the type refrigerator you are using. You'll find the names of such men in your telephone directory.

And here's an encouraging thought for your budget! For just one penny, Reddy Kilowatt will protect the food in your refrigerator for five hours! That's less than a nickel a day—from midnight tonight to midnight tomorrow!
